Inquest Set In Quentin Cult Death

An inquest in Monday's gunshot death of a San Quentin "Black Muslim" cult leader has been tentatively set for next Tuesday evening, and the successor to leadership of the cult's prison contingent has hinted he may have evidence to give.

Asst. County Coroner William Bradley said a coroner's jury will hear evidence in the death of inmate Booker T. Johnson, 27-year-old Muslim "minister," unless Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety is tied up with the paneling of a new grand jury. The hearing is set for 7:30 p.m. in Judge Charles N. Brusatori's courtroom.

Garety and his chief investigator, Donald E. Midyett, spent most of yesterday interviewing witnesses to the shooting of Johnson during a racial clash in the adjustment center exercise yard. Later in the day Warden Fred R. Dickson announced the shooting was accidental. He said guard Fred L. Bortfeld fired the shot only as a warning, and that Johnson ran, fell, stumbling or was pushed into the line of fire.

NO CHARGES

Garety, who said he had no intention of filing charges against Bortfeld, said he would recommend an inquest. Bradley said one would be held "to clear the air." He expected to pick a jury by Friday.

Garety and Midyett talked for more than an hour yesterday with two Muslim spokesmen, George Adams, 35, an Oakland parole violator, and Preston Wheeler, 34, a Los Angeles robber. The conference with Garety was one of five demands made by a group of 59 Muslims yesterday morning when they staged a "no work" protest over Johnson's death. It was the only request granted by prison officials, who put the 58 inmates in isolation until they agreed to go about their regular duties.

The conference, held in Associate Warden Louise S. Nelson's office with only the four men present, was "very formal," said Garety.

EXPLAINS FUNCTION

"They wanted to know what I was going to do about this," Garety said. "I explained to them the function of a coroner's inquest. They wanted to know if I was interested in grievances in general, and I told them it was out of my jurisdiction in general, but if they had evidence of any brutality, it might be the subject for a separate investigation.

"They wanted to know if I would use (in the Johnson case) any evidence they could present, and I told them I would welcome any evidence they had. They said they preferred to deliberate about this and would communicate with me through their legal counsel."

Garety said that Adams spoke carefully, thoughtfully and clearly during the conversation. He said the Muslims gave no specific information, however.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady said Adams apparently has emerged as the new leader of the Muslims in San Quentin. He estimated their number at about 70.

Larkspur Parents For Bonds

About 74 per cent of parents answering a questionnaire said they are willing to increase the bonded indebtedness of the Larkspur School District for more classrooms, Supt. Milton S. Cohen told the district board last night.

He said 6 per cent voted "no" and 20 per cent were undecided.

Regarding these and other answers acting chairman John R. Cunningham said, "the results ore very gratifying."

The three board members present voted to write all parents in the district a letter citing "the desperate need" for passage of a $700,000 bond issue and 85 cents per $100 of assessed valuation tax increase on June 4.

Chairman Pauline Secor was absent. Trustee M. K. Taylor resigned several weeks ago.

Cohen said he got answers to about 35 per cent of 2,000

Rail Union Will Fight Injunction

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The railway clerks union obeyed a California court order directing a 10-day delay in strike action. But union leaders declared they would ask some other court to upset the temporary injunction.

The order by Superior Court Judge James T. O'Keefe was issued in Redwood City yesterday less than six hours before the 6 p.m. strike deadline set by the union in its prolonged dispute over automation layoffs on the 8,000-mile Southern Pacific system.

The strike by 11,000 clerks would have idled 39,000 other railway workers in seven Western states.

James Weaver, the union's Southern Pacific unit chairman, said he was sure some other court would set aside Judge O'Keefe's order before March 8. He set that date for a show cause hearing on extending the restraining order.

SAUSALITO ARKS FIRE

Sausalito firemen today burned the first of two condemned arks on the waterfront near Litho Street this morning and planned to put the other four to the torch this afternoon and tomorrow. Recording the bit of Sausalito history by camera is C. R. Ellis of 307 Caledonia Street, who was in business in Sausalito for 44 years until his retirement in 1957. The arks have been condemned for failure to meet building and sanitary standards.

Khrushchev Vows Fight If Cuba, China Attacked

Takes Stand On Test Ban And Disarmament

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned today that Russian rockets and bombers would return to Cuba to wage thermonuclear war if the island were attacked by "imperialists."

In a major speech that lasted an hour and 27 minutes, Khrushchev also said the Soviets would rush to the aid of any Communist nation that might be attacked, including Communist China.

He said the Soviet Union had agreed to pull its rockets and bombers out of Cuba, but he added:

'It doesn't mean we left Cuba to be eaten by the sharks of imperialism. We will come to the aid of the Cuban people."

The Russian premier turned a local election speech for his home district into a wide-ranging policy statement on international affairs.

"We warn, that if there is an imperialist attack against Cuba or China—which is threatened from Taiwan (Formosa) by Chiang Kai-shek — or against Viet Nam or the German Democratic Republic or any other socialist state, the Soviet Union will come to the aid of its socialist brothers against any aggression," Khrushchev said.

His comment on other major cold war issues included:

Berlin—There will be "no peace in Europe or the world" as long as there is no peace treaty with Germany. West Berlin would go on living after a peace treaty, he said.

Nuclear Test Ban—The West can expect no further concessions from the Soviet Union beyond its previous offer of two or three on site nuclear test ban inspections.

General Disarmament — The Soviet Union is ready to sign a disarmament agreement and has proposed that arms curbs be accomplished in four or five years.

Economic Development — Boasting that Soviet economic expansion has been growing faster than that of the United States in the past 10 years, he said Soviet national income has been going up at the rate of 9.2 per cent a year. The U.S. average increase, he said, has been 2.7 per cent.

Ideological Differences — In an apparent reference to the Soviet-Red China ideological rift, he said differences and controversies arising "among fraternal parties would be overcome." (See story, page 2). He added that the Communist parties and the working classes of all countries would rally even closer together under the slogan of "Workers of all Countries, Unite!" He said the Communist camp would strengthen its unity despite the hopes of "imperialists" that it would split.

Resignation, Firing Spark Muir Meeting

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Times continue to be thorny for the Muir Beach Community Services District, which last night fired its manager, William Hunt, and immediately received word from director Leslie M. Anderson that he plans to resign.

Hunt, who receives a monthly salary of $150 for keeping the water running, billing, taking minutes and answering correspondence, said no reason for his ouster was given at the meeting.

Hunt said Harris last Friday "gave me a list of things he was unhappy about, offered me the alternative of resigning or being fired. I decided it would be nicer if they fired me." He

Buena Vista Permit May Be Revoked

Possibility of revoking all permits connected with Buena Vista Heights subdivision, including that for a nine-story apartment building beside Highway 101, was raised last night by the Sausalito City Council.

Construction by Perego, Harney and Teague, Inc., on the high rise building has been stopped for two months, according to William L. Hynes, building inspector. Work on duplexes behind the American Distilling Co. is proceeding, however. Hynes said he has been told the firm has run into financial difficulties.

Question before the council last night was whether to extend an improvement bond for streets and utilities for unit 3, which includes the big apartment building. It has lapsed without streets and utilities being produced.

Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich asked if this might throw the whole subdivision into default. He said the city has had problem after problem with the developers and suggested the subdivision might be subject to review with consideration of revoking all permits.

"I agree fully with Councilman Ehrlich," said Councilman Michael Harris. He suggested City Atty. Leland H. Jordan investigate to determine the city's rights on revokation.

Mayor Paul Micou speaking of the high rise buildings, said "three less would be better than one or two less." Sites have been approved for three but a building permit was issued for only one, which is now stopped at three stories.

"I would like to start from scratch with Mr. Perego after what the city has been through," said Micou.

SUMMER PROJECT APPROVED

Reed Students May Substitute 6-Week Session For 3rd Grade

A pilot project whereby a group of second graders will substitute an intensive six-week summer school for a year in the third grade was given the green light by Reed School District trustees last night.

The district is one of 12 in the state invited to participate in the "individual placement project for academically talented pupils," now underway in Pasadena and in Ravenswood district in East Palo Alto, according to John C. Fitch, Bel Aire School principal, who presented the plan.

Supt. Edward C. Pino estimated there would be 10 to 20 second graders eligible.

Fitch emphasized this is not "skipping" a grade as the pupils will receive the third grade program during the summer.

Working drawings for the Del Mar School addition were approved.

Head Trusty Caught After Speed Chase

The head trusty at Marin County Jail, who walked off his job and out the jail three weeks ago, was caught in Concord today after a high speed chase through town.

Bruce Evan Stockwell, 25, of Oakland will be returned to Marin to face a charge of jail escape. Undersheriff Eugene Meyer and Inspector Marco Melovich went to Concord to escort Stockwell back to his old quarters—but not to his old job as head inside trusty.

Stockwell had been serving a year in jail for car theft when he walked out for a prolonged stroll, Feb. 3. When caught by police this morning, he was driving a car stolen from San Francisco, according to Concord officials.

Start Of Lent

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII marked the start of the holy season of Lent today by urging the world's half billion Roman Catholics to actively practice charity in their own lives. The 81-year-old pontiff made his plea in an Ash Wednesday address.

Rafferty Says Won't 'Retreat' On Texts

By PHIL FRADKIN

Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, new state superintendent of public instruction, said last night he "will not retreat" in his fight to give school districts choice in selection of textbooks for elementary schools.

Rafferty, speaking to a crowd of more than 170 persons in the San Rafael High School auditorium, said: "I will not retreat, I will not equivocate, and I will be heard. But I need your help."

Rafferty and the state board of education clashed Feb. 14 as to who should set the policy for proposing legislation which would enable local school districts to choose among several state-approved texts for each course.

Rafferty departed from his topic of "What Is Education?" to call for "better textbooks." Loud applause from the audience greeted his statement.

He went on to say: "I am in a bit of a fight now to gain for you the right to have a say in the books selected to study. I am facing political and economic opposition from very powerful vested interests. . .

"The Winton bill (introduced by Assemblyman Gordon Winton Jr., D-Merced) must pass."

Rafferty outlined his program of "education in depth," which would include disciplined subject matter, healthy competition for excellence, homework, alphabetical grading, proper terminology for courses, and more grammar.

He said, "There must be drastic surgery on educational terminology. Educational goobbledygook is in a class by itself."

In response to a question from the floor, Rafferty said "there should be a reasonable basic knowledge of all the 'isms,' including communism," taught in the schools.

Rafferty said he "wouldn't at all be surprised" if schools found it necessary to expand their day to seven periods, with classes from 8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. "to teach everything they are supposed to."

He said teachers should be paid accordingly. "No teacher would object to a longer day, if there was extra remuneration," Rafferty added.

Rafferty's appearance was sponsored by the San Rafael High School Parent-Teacher Assn.

SAN JOSE (AP)—Jurors began deliberating the fate of acid killer Geza deKaplany at 11:40 a.m. today.

The jury of 10 men and two women is to decide whether he should be executed or imprisoned for life for the torture murder of his bride.

PG&E Plans Huge Power Expansion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacific Gas and Electric Co. today announced a 2.4-billion-dollar electric power expansion program through 1980.

The program, said Norman R. Sutherland, PG&E president, will add 15 million kilowatts of generating capacity and will more than triple PG&E capacity. The expansion includes 16 generators larger than anything in the existing system.

The construction schedule includes seven thermal generating units of at least one million kilowatts, nine of 660,000 kilowatts or larger and 1,200 miles of extra high voltage lines of at least 500,000 volts.

Rusk Vows No Cuba-Born Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has pledged that Fidel Castro will be blocked from trying to export armed attack. His assurances seem unlikely to quiet the crackling debate over the administration's handling of Cuban problem.

Rusk said in Houston yesterday night that if Cuba tries to use arms outside its territory it "will be met with the armed forces of the hemisphere" and repeated that "a Soviet military presence on that island cannot be accepted."

Use of arms by Cuba outside the island, he said, would be "intercepted, interrupted and stopped."

"Cuba must not become a source of infection for the hemisphere," he told a Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. meeting.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) a senior member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called Rusk's speech "a very clear statement of the administration's policy and one I'm confident will be carried out to a successful conclusion."

There was some Republican skepticism.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) a Foreign Relations committeeman, said, "I wish Secretary Rusk could make that determination retroactive, because the Russians apparently are occupying Cuba in force and I understand Soviet-made weapons are showing up in considerable quantities in other Latin-American countries."

The administration yesterday added 14 ships to the previous list of 12 vessels banned from carrying U.S.-financed cargoes because they engaged in Cuban trade.

There was a feeling on the part of some members of Congress that this wasn't going far enough.

Rep. Paul G. Rogers (D-Fla.) told the House, for example, that the United States should close its seaports to all nations which allow their flags to be flown in commerce with Cuba. He said nine British merchant ships put into Cuba in the last six weeks.

In his address, Rusk did not detail any plan to reduce the heavily armed and manned Soviet outpost.

President John F. Kennedy, pressing for Soviet troop withdrawals, has a promise from Premier Nikita Khrushchev that "several thousand" will be pulled out. So far there has been no sign of any troops leaving.

Russ Scientist On 5,000-Year-Old Newt: Nyet

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet professor, whose name was linked to a claim that 5,000-year-old lizard-like tritons had been brought back to life in Siberia, said today the story was "pure fantasy."

"The author of this tale should be punished," said Prof. Lev Losino-Losinsky, head of the cosmic biology laboratory at Leningrad's Institute of Cytology.

Losino-Losinsky, said in a telephone interview he had warned the writer of the revived lizard tale ahead of time not to portray scientific fantasy as fact.

The claim that a four-inch long amphibious salamander known as a triton had been revived frozen 5,000 years in Siberian soil was broadcast yesterday by Moscow Radio. It triggered a storm of phone calls from correspondents here and abroad seeking more details.

Overseas a host of scientific eyebrows were raised when the report was given wide circulation.

"My guess," Bogart said, "is that these lizards reported by Moscow either fell into the excavation or went down a rodent hole. Salamanders are active right down to the freezing point but at a couple of degrees below that they die. I do not know where the permafrost extends where they were found. I am doubtful it would be freezing at 13 feet."

ISSUE OF RELIGION IS BEFORE COURT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today plunges once again into the emotion-charged issue of religion in public schools. It begins hearing arguments on two cases which may have impact in classrooms all across the land.

Before the nine justices are appeals involving use of the Lord's Prayer and readings from the Bible in schools in Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The cases have national scope and will give the tribunal an opportunity to spell out how far it believes the founding fathers intended to go in separating church and state.

Interest in the Pennsylvania and Maryland cases sharpened after the Supreme Court's 6-1 decision last June 25, declaring unconstitutional the use in New York public schools of a non-denominational prayer written by state school officials.

That decision brought down a storm of criticism on the court. Some critics saw it as the first step in an assault on the nation's religious heritage.

The court receive support from those who contended the "official prayer" was a breach of the First and 14th Amendments to the Constitution.

In the Maryland case, the state's Court of Appeals ruled 4 to 3 against objections by Madalyn E. Murray and her 16-year-old son against daily school opening religious exercises required by the Baltimore Board of Education. The Murrays identify themselves as atheists.

Red China Still Angry At Russia

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today it is ready to hold private talks with the Soviet Union on the ideological issues splitting the Communist bloc. But it coupled this offer with a slashing attack on Premier Nikita Khrushchev for "double dealing" and demanded apologies.

The Chinese Communist party made this condition for the peace talks proposed by Moscow in a 70,000-word editorial in the Peking People's Daily. It also demanded that the Russian Communists repudiate their renewed friendship with Yugoslavia and cease their attacks on Peking's tiny Balkan ally, Albania.

STILL ANGRY

The editorial and its slashing criticism indicated the Chinese-Soviet relations are as angry as ever despite recent public signs of attempts to ease the quarrel. Peking's conditions for peace talks are clearly unacceptable to Moscow.

The Chinese for the first time took public notice of (1) the Soviet Union's supply of MIG-21-jet fighters to India, (2) the tearing up by Khrushchev of hundreds of Chinese aid contracts and (3) his bitter opposition to Chairman Mao Tze-Tung's pet programs — the industrial leap forward and the peoples' communes.

PRESSURE ON

Without naming names, the paper charged that in 1960 "certain comrades" put economic pressure on China. This was clearly Khrushchev's Russia.

"Disregarding international practice," it said, "they perfidiously and unilaterally tore up agreements and contracts they had concluded with a fraternal country. These agreements and contracts are to be counted, not in twos or threes or in scores, but in hundreds."

As for Yugoslav President Tito, the paper called him a "renegade" and said reconciliation with him was "absolutely impossible."

Republican Legislators Meet Young Conservative Leader

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Everyone emerged smiling yesterday from a meeting between Republican legislators and Robert Gaston, ultra conservative president of the State Young Republicans.

The caucus of GOP legislators, which included some who had bitterly fought his election, adopted a resolution praising Gaston for "his forthright statement and for his desire for unity and strength in the Republican Party."

Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) said it "looks like we will work harmoniously with the Young Republicans." Gaston was elected two weeks ago in a bitter fight with party moderates.

"I was delighted to have the opportunity to appear. It was a fine opportunity for us to get acquainted," he said afterwards.

French Terrorist Leader Is Found Bound, Beaten

PARIS (UPI)—French security agents were accused today of kidnaping a French terrorist leader from West Germany in the same way Israeli agents seized Nazi Adolf Eichmann in Argentina in May, 1960.

Police said ex-Col. Antoine Argoud was betrayed by his friends in the terrorist Secret Army Organization. He was found beaten and bound hand and foot in the back of a truck near Notre Dame Cathedral yesterday.

An anonymous called telephoned police, they said, and told them Argoud had "betrayed" the movement and that he could be found "very close" to police headquarters. The truck was just a block away.

Argoud himself and several Paris newspapers said he was kidnaped.

The newspapers pinned the arrest of the 52-year-old Argoud, who was a psychological warfare expert in Indo-China and Algeria, on a special government secret service unit known as the "barbouzes"—the bearded ones. This is a special strongarm group of French intelligence which operated clandestinely against the OAS in the latter stages of the Algerian war.

Center Postoffice Proposal Gains

Owner Frank Rusalem's latest plans for a new postoffice in the Corte Madera Center, smiliar to plans rejected by the town planning commission and council, received conditional approval of the Corte Madera Board of Design last night.

Plans for the building in the southeast corner of the center were approved on condition that the landscaping be changed. The plans go before the planning commission March 11.

Rusalem obtained an extension on his government contract to build the office for about $95,000 to give him yet another chance for town approval, it was learned from a Post Office Department aide.

Freedom Week Is Observed

About 700 eighth graders at Davidson, Santa Venetia and Vallecito junior high schools last week received facsimiles of the Declaration of Independence through a program sponsored by the Marin Sertoma Club.

This was in observance of Freedom Week by Sertoma Clubs throughout the nation. It was the third year the Marin club has sponsored the presentation of the facsimiles.

L. H. Babst, club secretary, reported that Freedom Week programs were held at each school. San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis signed a Freedom Week proclamation.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

New Berlin Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and Russia are expected to resume exploratory talks on the Berlin issue within a week or two, officials said today.

They reported that the United States had accepted a Soviet suggestion that the intermittent discussions, interrupted by the Cuban missile crisis last October, be taken up again. U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler told Soviet Foreign Minister Andre Gromyko of the U.S. decision Monday at the Kremlin.

Food Prices Jump

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco's retail food prices jumped 1 per cent between December and January, the U.S. Department of Labor's bureau of labor statistics announced here today.

The bureau blamed effects of the recent prolonged cold weather in California and the East for the hike, most of which was caused by higher prices for fruits and vegetables.

Chill Continuing

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frigid weather covered broad areas from the Mississippi River to New England and into the Southeast today. Freezing temperatures chilled northern Florida.

Snow tapered off in most sections of the South and East after dumping from three to seven inches in South Carolina northward over North Carolina and Virginia.

The cold air belt, with temperatures far below zero in many areas, extended from northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and Ohio through Pennsylvania, northern New York into northern Maine.

Flu Moving West

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The wave of Asian flu and influenza-like respiratory ailments is waning in some areas, but is continuing its slow westward movement across the nation.

"The latest and about the only recent trend is westerly," said a spokesman at the U.S. Public Health Service in Atlanta.

Dangerous To Vote

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—When John M. Neilsen, 71, reached for the lever to cast his ballot in yesterday's primary election for the Florida Legislature, the voting machine rocked forward and flattened him.

Precinct workers lifted the ponderous machine. Neilsen was taken to a hospital for treatment of arm and leg cuts.

Raise For U.S. Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The young intelligence specialist who conducted the television briefing on the Cuban missile situation is about to get a $1,500 a year pay increase.

It was learned today that Defense Department officials have approved promotion for John T. Hughes, 34, special assistant to the chief of the Defense Intelligence Agency.

Only some paperwork at the Civil Service Commission remains to be completed before Hughes goes up in pay from $14,500 to $16,000 a year.

To Head Communications Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was to announce today the selection of Undersecretary of the Air Force Joseph V. Charyk to head the new U.S. commercial communications satellite firm.

Charyk

Charyk, balding 42-year-old son of a Canadian railroad worker, will take over a post that carries a salary of at least $100,000 a year, say sources close to the Communications Satellite Corp.

Although he declined to comment last night on advance word of his selection, his excited wife, Edwina, gave the story away to a newsman with: "Oh, my goodness! That was supposed to be be announced by the President tomorrow!"

Friends of Charyk—a recognized master in the field of high speed flight and jet propulsion—said he is tremendously excited over the impending task.

Strike Talks Fail

NEW YORK (AP) — Amid a growing dispute over automation, striking printers and publishers of New York City's nine closed dailies have failed in what was termed a last-ditch effort to end the newspaper blackout, now in its 82nd day.

Further complicating the stalemate, machinists on the nine papers have threatened to strike unless they get a contract satisfactory to them.

The next step is up to Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who announced results of the unsuccessful printer-publisher negotiations after both sides met without him for more than six hours yesterday at a secret location.

Dominican President

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — This troubled Caribbean nation's first freely elected president in 38 years took office today with U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on hand pledging American support.

Arriving for the inauguration of President-elect Juan Bosch, Johnson promised U.S. help in the island republic's "struggle for economic progress and social justice."

Bosch, 53-year-old author-politician, easily won the nation's first fully free elections since 1924, coasting to victory by 300,000 votes last December on a campaign promising to help the little man.

Mill Valleyan Phones Wife, Gun Fire Sounds

James Francis Barkow, 24, of 60 Castlerock Drive, Mill Valley, dropped to the floor with a gunshot wound through the chest this morning while talking to his estranged wife over the telephone.

His wife Phyllis, 24, staying in San Francisco, said he called her about 3:55 a.m. and said, "I want to talk to you. I want you to hear something."

She heard a shot and the sound of a phone receiver hitting the floor. She called Mill Valley police.

Mrs. Barkow then called her husband, and he answered, "Hello." She hung up. A few moments later, he called back: "I did it. I love you. I did it. I love you." A telephone operator broke in to say police and an ambulance were on their way to Barkow's home at 60 Castlerock Drive.

Police Chief Dan Terzich found Barkow lying face down on the floor, unconscious. The phone receiver was on the floor, and Mrs. Barkow was still on the line. On a chair nearby lay a .22-caliber automatic with one cartridge in the chamber and one in the clip.

His condition was listed as "not critical."

The couple, married about four and one-half years and have no children.

Mrs. Barkow said they separated two weeks ago. About 12:30 this morning, she said he broke down the door to her apartment in San Francisco and found her and a friend in the living room, fully dressed. She said he hit her, and told her to come home.

Mrs. Barkow suffered a wrist wound when he broke down the door. She asked him to take her to Park Emergency Hospital, where she called police. Barkow went home to Mill Valley, and she went to her parents' home.

Doctor On Stand Says Iva Is Liar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Iva Kroeger is not only a "diabolical liar" but physically capable of lifting a 90 pound sack of cement, a court appointed psychiatrist testified today at her murder trial.

Earlier witnesses had told of seeing the 44-year-old grandmother carry two sacks of cement into the basement of her home where two bodies were dug up last August.

"You're a liar," she countered out loud. "I'm the mother of God."

She and her husband, Ralph, 61, are accused of murdering a Santa Rosa couple, Jay and Mildred Arneson, to get possession of their $72,000 motel.

"I found her to be what I would call a diabolical liar, with ingenuity, cruelty, wickedness, cool calculation, evil conduct and intent — like a devil . . . she can turn this faucet on hot or cold (in court) as she wishes . . . she fits the picture of a very, very clever, cunning woman," Dr. Catton said.

Tam Street Name Changes Rescinded

Having moved in haste last week to make six changes in names of Tamalpais Valley streets, Marin County supervisors yesterday repented at leisure.

Supervisor Peter Behr said it was all a case of poor information. The board had been assured that everybody knew of the matter and many residents were already using the new names. But this proved not so.

Behr said he'd had a particularly hot reaction from a couple of residents of Spring Drive, which was changed to Autumn Lane.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs promised to check up, after which the supervisors can start over again.

Cole Files For School Board

Theodore V. Cole, former member of the Marin County Board of Education, today filed for the board again in place of his wife, Alice Ann Cole, Kentfield trustee, who decided not to run for re-election.

Cole, of box 485, Kentfield, served on the board from 1956 to 1961 as a North Marin member.

Election of county board members will be held April 16 with school district trustee elections throughout the county.

MUIR

refused to comment on the list.

Harris could not be reached for comment. Mrs. Gates R. King, a director, said Hunt, an accountant in San Francisco, was fired because he was "too busy." "He has just more than any one human being can carry," said Mrs. King.

Anderson, a member of the board since its formation in 1959, gave no reason for resignation, and could not be reached today for comment.

Hunt reported the vote to fire him was 3-1, Anderson voting "no" and director Tony Leal abstaining.

The board announced it will hire a temporary manager and the job will be open for applications. Hunt said he was told at the end of the meeting by Anderson to keep the water running through the end of the month and to close out the books for February.

Last Dec. 5 three directors resigned in a disagreement on a proposed assessment district to improve the water. A recall election, begun in October, was held January in which president Wilbur R. Brown was "recalled." Brown was among those who resigned in December.

On Feb. 7 the county health department ordered Muir Beach water boiled after complaints had been made the well was contaminated by rain water. This order is still in effect, Hunt said. He said the casing has been extended on the district's well. A cap is to be placed atop when the area dries out.

Terra Linda Rec Meet

HELIPORT URGED AT HOSPITAL

Dr. Wilson P. Goddard, president of the Marin Hospital District board, asked fellow directors last night to consider building a heliport at Marin General Hospital to receive emergency cases.

The matter was referred to Administrator William W. Turner.

Turner said after the meeting, "we could make room on the grounds if we could cut out a couple dozen parking spaces, but it would require federal aeronautical approval and there would be other red tape."

SURVEY

questionnaires delivered to parents by their children.

He said 63 per cent were willing to pay increased school taxes to provide higher pay for teachers; 18 per cent "no," and 19 per cent "undecided."

Some other questions and answers:

Do you think you are getting value received from your school tax dollar? Yes, 71 per cent, no 8, undecided, 21.

Are you satisfied with the general school program of our Larkspur public schools? Yes, 88; no, 6; undecided, 6.

Do you feel that our schools are doing a good job in the teaching of the "three R's?" Yes, 72 per cent, no, 11; undecided, 17.

Have our schools shown enough interest in your child? Yes, 93 per cent; no, 3; undecided, 4.

Do you feel a teacher-pupil ratio of 30 is too high? Yes, 47 per cent; no, 36; undecided 19.

Do you feel free to visit the school about your child? Yes, 97, per cent; no, 1; undecided 2.

I-J Compositor Hurt In Fall

He was in "fairly good" condition at Marin General Hospital.

Reber, a compositor for the Independent-Journal, had gone to the home of Mrs. Joan Walters Snell, 24 Via Navarro, Greenbrae, to have breakfast with a friend at the conclusion of his night shift, Larkspur police said.

He was waving goodbye when he tumbled down the front steps at 6:30 a.m. police said.

County To Aid Novato On Plan

County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs was authorized by Marin County supervisors yesterday to enter into a contract with the City of Novato for work on a Novato Master Plan.

"This is like what was done about the West Marin Master Plan?" queried Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

"Yes, but the tables are turned," Dobbs replied. "On that we are having a consultant, whereas in this instance we're the consultant ourselves."

On motion of Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato, the board approved.

Buresh Enters Race For City Attorney

John G. Buresh, 52, who has been practicing law in Marin County for 16 years, announced today that he will run for San Rafael city attorney in the April 8 election.

His announcement assured at least a two-way contest. City Councilman David Menary Jr. has already announced he will run for the post now held by A. E. Bagshaw, who is not seeking re-election.

Buresh, who is city attorney of San Anselmo, said he offers 23 years of legal experience and 13 years of experience as a city attorney to the voters of San Rafael.

"The office of city attorney is a most important one particularly now that our city appears to be on the threshold of dramatic expansion and development," Buresh said.

"An aggressive city attorney, who through long experience can foresee legal problems arising out of present situations, can be invaluable to the city council in planning and legislating. The City of San Rafael is comparable to a substantial corporation and I feel the voters will want an opportunity to elect the most experienced officers possible to safeguard their interests and welfare in the corporation."

Buresh, a native of St. Paul, Minn., was reared in Omaha, Neb. He received his law degree there in 1940. In 1944 he came to California as an Air Force officer assigned to the judge advocate general's department. He was admitted to the California Bar in 1947.

JOHN G. BURESH
A two-way contest

He is senior member of the San Rafael legal firm of Buresh, Smith, Truett and Durham, and a former law partner of Judges Harold J. Haley and Leonard A. Thomas.

He is a member of San Rafael Elks Lodge 1108 and San Rafael Rotary Club, past president of the San Rafaels Bar Assn. and a former director of the Marin County Crippled Childrens Society.

He and his wife, Helen, live at 257 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael. They have a son, Scott, 11, a sixth grader at St. Raphael's School, and a daughter, Susan, 19, a sophomore at Scripps College for Women at Claremont.

Skirmish Develops As GOP Re-Names Misner

By CHAPIN A. DAY

Chairman Gerald E. Misner of San Anselmo resigned from the Republican County Central Committee, was reappointed and re-elected chairman last night.

During that period the Republicans found time for an intra-party skirmish which hearkened back to the moderate-conservative split at the Young Republicans election in January.

Misner had to resign because he moved from Mill Valley to San Anselmo, thus moving from District 3, from which he was elected, into District 2.

Last night, shortly after Misner stepped down, William S. Anderson Jr. of Ross took the floor and tendered his own resignation. He praised Misner's "splendid job" and declared "the continuation of the present chairman is most vital and important to the county."

He resigned "in the interest of ex-chairman Misner obtaining a vacancy in the Second District" and a wish that the "present slate of officers succeed themselves." He had served only two and one-half years of his first four-year term.

Shortly afterwards Misner was appointed to the vacancy created by Anderson and later in the meeting was re-elected chairman unanimously.

Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito was unanimously approved for Misner's old seat in the Third District.

Then came the skirmish over two vacancies in the First (San Rafael) District.

Herbert Walton, chairman of the First District caucus, announced his caucus unanimously endorsed Walter McGovern of Marinwood and Donald Black of San Rafael for the two seats. Black recently defeated McGovern for the Young Republican presidency.

Vice Chairman Henry Broderick, who was conducting this part of the meeting, ruled each would have to be elected separately. Walton nominated McGovern, the conservative, first.

In a voice vote, it appeared that McGovern had been rejected, but there was a demand for a secret ballot. While the ballots were being prepared, Walton, and the other two caucus members, William O. Weissich and Bruce Bales, attempted to withdraw the nomination. Broderick ruled a vote was in process and such an attempt was out of order.

The acting chairman then announced McGovern had been defeated by a majority, without revealing the actual vote. (Informed sources said the vote was 4 to 14.)

Nominated from the floor and elected in a similar secret ballot was Paul Haerle, Santa Venetia attorney.

Walton, who had told the group that in the personal knowledge of First District members the central committee had never rejected an unanimous nomination by a district, refused to nominate Black or anyone else for the second vacancy. "We do not wish to have another good Republican embarrassed by this committee," he said.

So Charles Daniels, San Rafael beverage distributor, was nominated from the floor and elected to the vacancy.

The committee, after being informed of the "grim" financial position of the Marin GOP, voted to form a Headquarters Club, dues from which would go to maintaining a year-round party headquarters in San Rafael.

STOCKS TODAY

Losses of key stocks ran from fractions to around 2 points.

The market moved unevenly with trading dull most of the session. Prices began to soften in the final hour and gave ground increasingly until the final bell.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.5 million shares compared with 3.67 million yesterday.

Subdivision Work To Be Novato Job

Subdivision engineering and inspection work in Novato, now done by Marin County, will be taken over by the city sometime next summer, the Novato City Council voted last night.

Donald R. Frost, county director of public works, asked the city to take over the functions.

Mayor M. E. Silva told Frost that he was pleased with the high quality of county work and felt it would be some time before the city could get as capable help in subdivision work.

This is the last service which the county is doing for Novato.

Charles Joseph, city director of public works, asked for two additional engineers and a full-time stenographer-clerk to do the subdivision inspection and engineering work.

After discussion for more than an hour, Councilman Howard Schoof asked to bring the question to a head.

The council then voted to take over the engineering and inspection of subdivisions sometime between July 1 and Sept. 1. However, it refused to take any immediate action on hiring more help in the public works department.

There were approximately 1,500,000 full and part-time public school teachers in this country at the start of the 1962-63 school year.

Hoover Aide Ben Allen Dies At 80

PALO ALTO (UPI) — Ben S. Allen, veteran newspaperman and adviser to former President Herbert Hoover before, during and after the Hoover administration, died last night. He was 80.

Allen died in a convalescent home at Menlo Park after a long illness. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Victoria French Allen, and four sons.

Allen was well known in the Redwood Empire because of his long residence at Clear Lake.

Allen like Hoover a graduate of Stanford University, worked on San Francisco newspapers early in his career. In 1910 after joining the Associated Press he was sent to London where he first met Hoover.

By the outbreak of World War I Allen and Hoover were close friends and when Hoover took over the job of furnishing food to war-shattered Belgium, Allen went with him as adviser and press assistant.

Later, when President Woodrow Wilson named Hoover to direct wartime food distribution in the United States, Allen went with him as information director.

In 1919 Allen bought and operated the Sacramento Union until 1923.

He later published the California Farmer and then turned to public relations work.

He retired in 1957 after seven years of conservation and community relations work with the California redwood industry.

In addition to his wife Allen leaves four sons, John Allen, Palo Alto; David Allen, San Lorenzo, William Hayes Allen, Arlington, Va.; and Dr. Shannon C. Allen, Chicago. He also leaves a brother, Charles P. Allen of Willits, 15 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Life Insurance Stocks As Investments?

Most Americans think of life insurance in terms of the policies which provide them with financial protection against death and disability. Few realize that the most profitable of all investments consistently have been made through ownership of the common stocks of life insurance companies.

Life insurance stocks have been available at price/earnings ratios much lower than so called "growth" stocks among the industrial issues—yet the growth of life insurance companies has been consistent and virtually unmatched. There are sound and solid reasons which make continued growth appear inevitable:

1. Life companies have been relatively unaffected by the rising costs of doing business. Related to income, their costs are lower than they were 40 years ago.
2. They are immune to the risk that new inventions may displace their markets—Life insurance has no substitute.
3. There is no plant or machinery to become obsolete.
4. There are no inventory problems—the product is money.
5. No dependence on government defense contracts exists.
6. Foreign competition is virtually non-existent.
7. There has been total freedom from labor troubles.
8. Unique tax shelter—Life companies retain gains to increase earning power for shareholders.
9. Life expectancy is increasing—extra gains are created because people live longer, paying more premiums over more years.
10. Sales are cumulative—Life companies enjoy continued earnings from sales made years ago, providing relative immunity to recessions.
11. Profit "plow-back" accelerates compounding of earning power—retained profits are reinvested without tax liability.
12. Demonstrated record of outstanding market performance—Life stocks have outperformed even the best growth issues in the majority of years in recent decades.

Certainly, the stocks of life insurance companies belong in any portfolio where safety or growth are objectives. They have been largely overlooked as investments—for many reasons.

Beckman & Co., Inc., will be glad to introduce you to life insurance stocks, and to analyze your current portfolio or your entire financial plan. There is no cost or obligation. An appointment at our office or your home can be arranged by a telephone call. Ask for Mr. Charles J. Francis or Mr. Ted A. Murray.

ROGER T. DUNCAN
Joins San Rafael bank

San Rafael Bank Names Assistant

Promotion of Roger T. Duncan to assistant vice president at Bank of America's San Rafael branch from manager of a branch in San Luis Obispo was announced today by Leroy Rudolph, vice president and manager.

Duncan succeeds Glade R. Grenke, who has been assigned to a senior lending position at the Oakland main office. Duncan, assuming general lending responsibilities, becomes the second ranking officer at the San Rafael branch.

He joined the bank in 1956 after receiving a bachelor's degree and pursuing graduate studies in business administration at University of California in Berkeley. He was appointed manager of the College Square branch in San Luis Obispo in 1961. He and his wife, Carolyn, and three children will move to the San Rafael area.

Grenke, who also holds the title of assistant vice president, will be responsible for major commercial accounts in the main office.

Grenke, with his wife Patricia and three sons, will continue to reside in San Rafael aat 842 Las Pavadas Avenue, Terra Linda, until the school term is completed.

Singer Resuming Career

Don Alden of Fairfax will resume his professional career as a dramatic tenor Saturday in a concert at 8:30 p.m. at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

Alden is returning to the concert stage as his own impressario after an absence of several years spent developing his voice, which now has a range of three octaves.

He has been singing professionally since the age of 13, and made his debut at Carnegie Hall in New York in 1956.

The singer said that in his forthcoming tour his purpose will be "to sing in smaller towns across the nation, where people come to hear you sing, not to be seen." His programs are planned as "informal and friendly presentations featuring well known and beloved arias."

Tickets are available at Hoy's TV and music stores and will be on sale at the door of the San Rafael Improvement Club before the concert.

Hub City Gallery Director Named

James Morrison Greathouse has been named by William Torrance as the first professional director of Torrance Gallery in San Anselmo.

The announcement came with preparations for the opening Sunday of the new gallery at 128 Greenfield Avenue.

Torrance, who has operated a gallery in San Anselmo since 1950, said that he will sponsor annual competitions. There will also be exchange shows with foreign countries and three exchange shows with artists in Alaska, Hawaii, and Texas.

POWER FAILURES CAUSED BY TREES

Nearly every power failure in San Anselmo during the last storm was caused by swaying or falling trees and limbs, two officials of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. told San Anselmo city councilmen last night.

George M. Henderson, district manager for PG&E, and Leonard O. Robertson, district electric superintendent, appeared at last night's meeting to discuss electricity stoppages and possible solutions.

Henderson said most people do not like to see trees cut down or trimmed. He invited city officials to tour some of the tree-lined streets to check the danger spots. He said the most hazardous right now is Tamalpais Avenue, and some trees along Center Boulevard need pruning.

The business area in San Anselmo is supplied by two feeder lines. One of the lines had been turned off because of construction going on at Ross and San Anselmo Avenues. The storm knocked out the other feeder and caused the long power shutoff in the downtown area, Henderson explained.

Only one trouble was caused by other than trees, said Robertson. Slack lines, whipped by strong winds, short-circuited and cut off power to Marin Poultry Co.

The council asked City Administrator Douglas Flautt to study the tree problem with PG&E officials and present a recommendation.

Management Course Set

A six-week construction industry management course sponsored by College of Marin and the Marin Builders Exchange will begin at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Room 40, Chemistry Building, on the Kentfield campus.

The course is designed for contractors, managers, superintendents and estimators but is open to anyone interested in the construction industry, said Dr. Ellsworth R. Briggs, dean of the adult school.

Suicide Clinic May Be Formed In Marin County

A committee has been named to investigate the possibility of establishing a suicide clinic in Marin County, Rev. David C. Jacobsen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito, said today.

Dr. Catharine Cline Pike and Dr. Ernest J. Long, both of the Marin County Medical Society, were appointed by Dr. J. M. Stubblebine, the society's medical health chairman.

The Marin County Council of Churches named Rev. James P. Sherman, pastor of Fairfax Community Church, and Dr. E. V. Stein, dean of students and assistant professor of pastoral psychology at San Francisco Theological Seminary. Rev. Jacobsen is committee coordinator.

Stephen Price, Navy fireman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ordell F. Jacobsen of 46 Alexander Avenue, San Rafael, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk as a unit of the Seventh Fleet on her first Western Pacific cruise.

New Hub Fire Chief To Be By Examination

When San Anselmo Fire Chief Nello Marcucci retires in June, he will be succeeded by one of his top seven subordinates.

City councilmen last night decided that an examination for chief should be given to create an eligibility list for fire chief, with the pay scale ranging from $676 to $821 per month. The examination will be limited to men in the San Anselmo Fire Department who are lieutenants or higher in rank.

This means that the following men will be eligible for the examination: Asst. Fire Chief Frank Sousa, Captains John Bell, Richard McLaren, William Rawlins and William Sousa, and lieutenants Robert Beedle and Joseph DePatta.

The State Personnel Board will conduct the examinations.

Chief Marcucci, who has been with the fire department for 41 years, said he has some good men in his department, and he is glad to see the examination limited to the department.

Enlists In Marines

Lawrence J. Bersano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bersano of 89 Park Drive, San Anselmo, enlisted in the Marine Corps through the Sacramento recruiting office last week.

TV Set Stolen From Motel

An overnight guest disappeared with the motel's television set last week, the motel manager complained to the sheriff Monday night.

Mrs. Lucille E. Koons, who manages Motel Alto at 817 Redwood Highway, told Sheriff's Deputy George Johnsen that a man, who said he was from Hollister, checked in on Feb. 18. He said his car broke down.

The next morning, when the maid went to clean the room, it had already been cleaned of a $160 TV set. The guest had disappeared too.

The American Flag was first saluted by the British at the surrender of Burgoyne's army on Oct. 17, 1777.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE CLERKS' STRIKE AGAINST S.P.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AGREED LONG AGO TO ALL THE RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S EMERGENCY BOARD

THE RAILWAY CLERKS' UNION

REFUSES TO ACCEPT THE BOARD'S RECOMMENDATIONS

Southern Pacific accepted in good faith the recommendations of President Kennedy's Emergency Board that clerical employes displaced by changing conditions should be provided REASONABLE INCOME PROTECTION. Our offer to the Union on income protection IS EXACTLY AS RECOMMENDED BY THE BOARD, AND IS ONE OF THE MOST LIBERAL EVER PROVIDED BY ANY INDUSTRY.

Protection of PEOPLE, which we want to do, is one thing.

Protection of POSITIONS, needed or not, which the Union demands, is another.

THE UNION'S DEMAND FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF POSITIONS FOR WHICH THERE IS NO WORK IS CLEARLY BEYOND THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE BOARD.

If there are any misunderstandings of the intent of President Kennedy's Board in making its impartial recommendations, THEN SOUTHERN PACIFIC HAS URGED—AND CONTINUES TO URGE—THAT THE EMERGENCY BOARD BE RECONVENED to review its proposals in the overall public interest.

If this is not satisfactory to the Union, THEN WE SUGGEST ARBITRATION.

Brown, Legislature 'To Work Together'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Democratic legislative leaders, somewhat estranged in the early weeks of the 1963 session, let it be known today they're going to try to work more closely.

Just how closely may well determine the success of the Democratic governor's second-term program.

Democratic majorities in both houses pushed through the bulk of the Brown administration's bills in the 1959 and 1961 general sessions.

This year, though, top-ranking Democrats have complained that Brown wasn't consulting with them on his legislative proposals.

Both Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles) and Senate Majority Leader Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) told a recent news conference that they weren't entirely certain what was in the governor's program.

Brown invited seven Democratic legislators to lunch yesterday. It was a private affair in a private club, and there were two versions of what happened:

"It was just a harmony meeting," said one guest.

Said another: "We told the governor that he hasn't coordinated his program with those of us in the legislature who will have to put it over."

Nobody would talk for attribution.

It was understood, however, that both sides agreed to continue the meetings on a regular basis. An informant said the governor showed every desire to work with the legislative leaders.

SUDDEN DESCENT

The feverish heat of San Anselmo Bargain Days, tomorrow through Saturday, makes it necessary for San Anselmo fireman David Pardee to use a ladder to bring down the prices, symbolized here by a manikin. Judy Campredon of Sa nAnselmo, a shopper, looks on with interest, while Abe Froman, a merchant, lends a hand. Bargain Days offers are contained in a special section of today's Independent-Journal. SCHOOL DISTRICTS STUDY IS STALLED

Objections by board member John M. Bagshaw last night stalled approval by the San Rafael Board of Education of a five-district school organization study seen as possible prelude to district unification.

Edward J. Anderson of Bozz, Allen and Hamilton, management consultants, was on hand expecting approval of an agreement for his firm to study organization of Novato, San Jose, Dixie and the two San Rafael school districts.

On Feb. 12, the San Rafael board delayed action to see whether the Dixie board would go along on the study, cost of which would be divided among the five districts and the county schools office. The following night, the Dixie board approved it.

But for Bagshaw, that was not enough. He said last night the Dixie board had not demonstrated sincerity toward study of unification.

Member Rex T. Silvernale said agreeing to put up their share of the cost certainly showed the Dixie trustees were sincere.

Bagshaw then said the Dixie district should make formal application to the county schools office requesting the study. (The Booz, Allen and Hamilton proposal was approved by the County Committee on School District Organization before being submitted to the district boards, and the county superintendent agreed that county funds up to $1,500 could be spent on it. A letter indicating this has been in the hands of San Rafael board members since before the Feb. 12 meeting.)

"I want this to go through the proper channels," said Bagshaw.

"If there are channels to go through, let's see that we go through them," said acting chairman C. Paul Bettini.

Silvernale argued for action, but the matter was again put over. Board members suggested the "sincerity" of the Dixie trustees might be verified at a joint meeting of Dixie, San Jose and San Rafael boards at 6:30 p.m. today at the San Rafael High School cafeteria, which is to discuss joint curriculum planning.

Thomas Pring To Quit Hub Planners

Thomas E. Pring, San Anselmo planning commissioner for 16 years, will retire when his term expires on April 14.

His letter of resignation was accepted with regret last night by the San Anselmo City Council. Pring said he enjoyed serving with the planning commission, which he described as the "finest group" with whom he has ever been associated.

Mayor John M. Reichmuth asked his colleagues to be thinking of a successor for Pring.

The mayor appointed Mrs. Brooks Pringle to the parks and recreation commission. She will succeed Eleanor Beales.

Miss Beales notified the mayor that she cannot serve on the parks and recreation commission after all.

New Notary Public

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced the issuance of a notary public commission to Francelle Warner, 205 Laurel Place, San Rafael.

San Rafael Teachers Revive Year-Old Pay Hike Request

The salary committee of the San Rafael Teachers Assn. last night revived a year-old request for increased pay and got a sympathetic ear from members of the San Rafael Board of Education.

The schedule, presented by Ewing Bone, salary committee chairman, would reduce the number of steps in the pay scale from 16 to 12, increasing the step increment from $250 to $350.

Minimum salary would be increased from $5,000 to $5,200 a year, and maximum from $9,770 to $10,450.

The request was presented in a session prior to the regular meeting of the board last night. Supt. Bert C. Corona estimated that the higher schedule would add between $300,000 to $400,000 to the annual payroll for elementary and high school districts.

Board members agreed that salary increases for teachers were past due, but felt the proposed schedule might be too big an undertaking in one year.

Acting Chairman C. Paul Bettini said the board could give no definite answer until the tentative budget for next year is prepared.

Philip Olsen, president of the San Rafael Teachers Assn., said pay increases are needed to bring the salary schedule up to a competitive level with other school districts in the Bay Area.

Robert L. Krohn, chairman of the San Rafael High School steering committee, said teachers realize that salary increases are not the only thing needed. He said holding down the pupil-teacher ratio and school construction and repairs are also vital.

E Street School To Be Used Again Next Fall To Care For Crowding

E Street School will again be put into temporary service next fall to take care of crowding in the San Rafael Elementary School District.

Supt. Bert C. Corona told the San Rafael Board of Education last night that use of the school will be necessary until completion of the Glenwood School about the middle of the school year. First through sixth grade pupils from Glenwood, Marin Bay and Bayside Acres area will attend E Street until the new school is finished.

The school district has the E Street property up for sale, but board members agreed that the sale will have to be conditional on continued school use until about February, 1964.

Use of the E Street school was one of four choices presented to the board by Dr. Corona. Others were:

1. Purchase of four portable classrooms to be place at San Pedro School and double sessions there in the first three grades.

2. Double sessions in all grades at San Pedro until the Glenwood School is completed.

3. Transporting pupils from the Glenwood area to various schools on the north side of Puerto Suello Hill.

The board voted 4-0 in favor of reactivating E Street School. Chairman Roderick P. Martinelli was absent.

The board authorized recruitment of new elementary school principal who will have charge of the E Street School and later the new Glenwood School.

Dr. Corona said it would cost $10,000 at the most to repair the E Street School furnace and leaks in the roof, install shelving and make other necessary repairs. Another bus will probably be needed to take care of the extra transport load, he said.

Board members accepted with thanks a report from the San Rafael Schools Committee on Finance and Educational Facilities and told chairman W. W. Gudmundson that citizens on the committee would not be discharged at this time as there may be questions to be answered and more work to do.

The committee, after meetings over a five-month period, recommended four-million-dollar bond issue for elementary schools and a 50-cent increase in the ceiling of the high school tax rate.

Board members authorized two new courses at San Rafael High School and establishment of a humanities department. Electronics, taking the student from elementary electrical circuits up to the operation of the vacuum tube, will be geared primarily for freshmen. The board authorized application for a National Defense Education Act grant which would pay up to half of the total $23,950 estimated for equipment.

Board members approved addition of a two-semester course in humanities and authorized establishment of a humanities department which would push the growth of a humanities program at the high school. The course description and request for a department were presented by John C. Curtin, head of the high school social studies department.

Both courses will start next fall.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Scheduled an auction of surplus equipment, valued at $1,000, for 10 a.m. March 23 and hired San Francisco auctioneers Butterfield and Butterfield to handle the sale at 10 per cent commission. The surplus list includes two 1951 sedans, a 1949 sedan, several chairs, light fixtures, and old fire extinguishers.

2. Adopted a 1963-64 school calendar which calls for school to begin Sept. 3 and end June 5, giving a total of 177 days of instruction.

3. Agreed to consider a fence along the north of Hartzell School property at a cost of about $500 in the next budget. The fence was requested by Rev. Bliss W. Bellinger of neighboring Faith Lutheran Church, who compained of damage to church shrubbery and broken church windows.

4. Scheduled the annual personnel meeting for Thursday, March 14.

5. Authorized $940 expenditure for improving the Third Street entrance to San Rafael High School. The work will be done by Piombo Brothers of San Rafael which is making Third Street improvements for the city.

6. Adjourned until March 12.

Legion Speech Contest

The Fifth District oratorical contest of the American Legion on the subject "Patriotism" will be sponsored by San Anselmo Post 179 at the Legion Log Cabin Sunday starting at 2 p.m. The winner will compete in the area contest March 10.

Belvedere Dock Plan Recommended

The Belvedere Planning Commission last night voted to recommend to city councilmen that a revokable use permit be issued to permit Mrs. Neville J. Rich to construct a dock extending into city property.

Mrs. Rich is leasing a lot from the Westshore Co. contingent on approval of the permit.

The commission conditionally approved construction drawings for unit 2 of the Westshore subdivision, depending on the city engineer's approval of the riprap construction and lack of gutters on the east side of Westshore Road.

Merritt K. Ruddock announced he would resign from the commission because of an extended trip.

Inmate Escapes At Prison Camp

Richard Cuadra, 26, a San Quentin Prison inmate serving a five-year to life sentence for first degree robbery from Los Angeles County, escaped last night from the Parlin Fork conservation camp in Mendocino County, prison officials announced today.

Cuadra, who had been on parole, was returned to San Quentin Oct. 4, 1962, for parole violation. He was put in the Parlin Fork camp on Feb. 18.

No vehicle was reported missing, so officials assumed that Cuadra escaped on foot. He was missed at an 11 p.m. check.

Family Service Agency Open House Tomorrow

Open house will be held tomorrow at the new office of the Family Service Agency in the Herzog-Rake Building at 1005 A Street, San Rafael, from 4 to 7 p.m

Volunteer workers, headed by Mrs. J. V. Hawley of Mill Valley, housing committee chairman, have redecorated the new office which includes reception and interview rooms as well as space for volunteer clerical workers and trainees assigned to the agency by the University of California.

United States firms are wooed to build in Puerto Rico with 10 to 13-year tax exemptions, help in finding sites and erecting buildings and data on labor supply, power sources, housing and recreation.

Sausalito's Stop Signs 'Unnecessary'

"There's no necessity for stop signs whatever in this city," Carl W. Spring told the Sausalito City Council last night after the councilmen had just approved adding two.

"Never do I go out to walk the Springs' dog but do I fail to see someone who is not using the stop signs," Spring continued. "If our police departmen had a few less chairs in here and more boys out looking for violations, more of our taxpayers' money would be well earned."

A. G. (Babe) Malone preceded Spring's charge, complaining that "people don't read stop signs." He spoke specifically of the sign at Second and Richardson streets.

Stop signs were authorized at Woodward and Rodeo avenues and at Anchor Street and Humboldt Avenue.

Councilman Michael Harris asked City Mgr. Charles A. Brown for a report on advisability of placing a sign at Spencer Avenue and Monte Mar Drive reading: "Children at Play. No Sidewalks."

The council set for next Tuesday public hearing on an appeal from planning commission denial of a use permit to allow Heath Land Co. to build an 114-unit apartment house in Marinship.

Thomas E. Flowers, representing Western Urban Organization, which is to own 61 per cent of the development, said the development is proposed to be three stories, in a U-shape with the inside harbor containing spaces for 50 boats. Density would be 2,850 square feet per unit including the water area.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Accepted resignation of Russell Riley from the planning commission. Riley, a commissioner one year, has moved from Sausalito.
2. Did not object to transfer of an on-sale liquor license at the Dory, 681 Bridgeway, from Oliver Lambert to Thomas Siddle and Richard Schmidt.
3. Agreed that Rob Rose, head of Sausalito Community TV System, be allowed to have two poles for television antennas at the top of Currey Avenue but suggested he remove a small real estate shack from the area within three months.
4. Approved a variance from off-street parking requirements to permit J. D. Milier to establish an art gallery-coffee shop-restaurant at 100 Caledonia Street.
5. Adopted a resolution accepting the Glen Drive survey.
6. Adopted a resolution approving a $75 a month raise for Brown, thus making his salary $900. "It's still the bottom in Marin County," said Harris.
7. Said it does not favor a League of California Cities proposals to increase the gasoline tax by one cent.
8. Endorsed an Alameda mayors' conference resolution which proposes requiring the State of California obtain freeway agreements with cities for all freeway construction.
9. Authorized employment of a temporary fireman as vacation relief at $440 per month.
10. Set hearing March 19 on extending the interim use permit ordinance for three months, to mid-July.
11. Set for March 12 public hearing on the Marinship general plan.
12. Heard from John Harlan that Caledonia Street merchants will give 10 Scotch pines, in planters, for placing on sidewalks between Johnson and Pine streets.
13. Announced the council would meet next Monday to discuss the proposed zoning ordinance.

West Marin Flood Study Requested

A preliminary study of West Marin flood potential in the neighborhood of Point Reyes Station was asked of the Army Corps of Engineers yesterday by Marin County supervisors.

The action was requested by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, with support of Capt. Adolph S. Oko, representing a group of affected property-holders.

Frost reported he had held a conference of government agencies interested. He said some damage occurred due to flooding Jan. 31 and "under more severe conditions both Sir Francis Drake and Bear Valley Road could be closed by the flooding."

Recently constructed dikes, Frost reported, "have reduced the ponding area available at the southern end of Tomales Bay and the available channel is somewhat restricted."

Supervisor William Gnoss moved the request be made for a study, and his colleagues approved.

To Give Classes

Arthur Volz, director of the Stinson Beach Ambulance Corps, will give Red Cross first aid classes at the Stinson Beach Community Center for five Tuesdays beginning March 12. Classes start at 8 p.m. and certificates will be issued to those who pass the course. Further information is available from Ruth Miller at Stinson Beach.

'BOOTLEG' PARKING POLICY EVOLVES

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night made two policy decisions, one aimed at control of "bootleg" parking lots and the other at applicants for planning action who have no authority to speak for owners of land involved.

The commissioners held that the zoning ordinance section on use permits is being evaded by owners of unimproved, unplanned and unregulated parking lots. The staff was directed to investigate and require compliance with the law.

The commission ruled that after March 1, any applicant for a use permit, variance, subdivision map approval or other commission action must, if he does not own the property, submit a written authorization from the owner to carry through the action.

Commissioned Charles Hendrickson, who made the motion, said Sausalito requires such authority.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Granted architectural approval for one eightplex, two sixplexes and a fourplex by Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. between Fairfax and Sonoma streets and Bellam Boulevard.
2. Held over, pending plan revision, architectural approval of an 86-unit apartment at Canal, Larkspur and Novato streets by Kaehler-Farrar.
3. Denied a use permit to Gunther Hagel for a building maintenance office and warehouse expansion at 5 F Street.
4. Postponed for the third time approval of plans by Edward Wachsman for an office building at 914 Mission Avenue.
5. Approved a 20-unit apartment on Fairfax Street near Canal Street by D. M. Christensen.
6. Granted a use permit and architectural approval to Leon Magee for a triplex at 99-101-103 Elizabeth Way.
7. Denied Joanne Wing a use permit for a real estate school at 404 First Street.
8. Granted Frank Tarantino a use permit for a "take out" restaurant at 1574 Fourth Street.
9. Granted a use permit and architectural approval to Eugene Treasrau for an office building at 1103 Tamalpais Avenue.
10. Held over, pending improvement of design, a use permit and architectural approval for a service garage and office building on Belvedere Street near Tiburon Street for Fairview Lands, Inc.
11. Approved a four-lot subdivision by E. J. Riley on Graceland Drive.
12. Approved a resubdivision of two parcels for H. and E. Bettoli on Miraflores Avenue.
13. Set March 12 and 26 hearing dates for rezoning Rafael Racquet Club Estates Unit 5 subdivision.

Intoxicated Driver Given $220 Fine

Howard H. Cleaves, 51, of 768 St. Francis Avenue, Novato, mut pay $220 fine and remain on six months probation for drunken driving.

He was sentenced yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court. Cleaves was arrested on Highway 101 last Wednesday.

Petaluma River Plan Is Backed

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted approval of a campaign for major improvements on the Petaluma River deemed beneficial to Marin as well as Sonoma County.

Carroll A. Snyker, executive vice president of the Marin County Development Assn. said plans have progressed to where a formal presentation to Army agencies interested. He said would be strengthened by Marin support.

Five miles of the river frontage lies within Marin, Snyker pointed out. Sonoma County and the City of Petaluma plan widening and deepening of the river.

"This work would give a clear flow of Novato Creek and open a waterway to Novato of benefit to industry," said Supervisor William Gnoss in moving support.

Harris Suggests Buying Sausalito Yacht Club

Sausalito City Councilman Michael Harris last night reopened a proposal that the city purchase the Sausalito Yacht Club and use the building for a library, should the club decide to move northward into Richardson Bay.

Mayor Paul Micou said, "I have heard they (the club) are not interested."

Swim Pool Contractor Says He's Not At Fault

Max D. Schenk, original contractor for the controversial Terra Linda High School swimming pool, appeared before the San Rafael Board of Education last night to protest blame laid against him.

His statement charged that the pool's probiems were faults of design, not construction.

Acting chairman C. Paul Bettini, who said the board could not take time to hear the charges.

Two weeks ago, the board heard from Charles L. Condrotte, business manager of San Rafael schools, recommending that legal steps be taken against Schenk to recover some $3,000 in additional expenses.

In a letter dated Feb. 15 and shown to board members last night, Condrotte listed $851.76 for repair of loose tile and coping, elimination of a leak and a $456.44 item for "various repairs."

Condrotte said caulking coming loose in expansion joints was probably due to too early use of the pool and the district should not charge Schenk for that. Cost of replacement was $554.20.

Bettini said Schenk could file his statement with the board. "The matter is in the hands of our attorney," Bettini said.

Schenk'c statement, which he did not file, said everything was installed at the pool "as per plans and specifications and under the direct supervision of two inspectors."

He said plans for the pool were drawn by Carl F. Gromme and Ralph B. Priestly "and only they are responsible for the improper design which is causing the improper operation of the pool."

Corte Madera Might Quit Joint Rec Unit

The possibility of Corte Madera's dropping out of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission will be faced at a special meeting of the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission tonight, Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said today.

The meeting, to be attended by Colthurst and Town Councilman Norman R. Barnett, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in town hall.

"We will consider dropping out or curtailing our part in the joint commission's program," Colthurst said. "We contributed nearly $6,000 to their current budget. That's getting pretty large."

The town last year budgeted $4,250 for the joint body. Then, at insistent request of the commission, it increased its contribution to $5,750 on Aug. 20.

Meanwhile the town's park alongside Tamalpais Drive is being completed and will include a ball field and tennis courts.

Colthurst said in a council meeting several months ago it was time for the town to take a new look at its recreation program. For this purpose the town's park and recreation commission invited council members to tonight's meeting.

Bike, Car Collide; Boy, 7, Injured

David Vassar of 334 Jean Street was northbound on Green Glen Way at 3:05 p.m. when he met a car driven by John G. Wright of 712 Cabin Drive. Wright cut left and the bicycle struck the right front of his sedan.

The boy was treated for head bruises and cuts at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco.

Gomez Jewelry Trial Continued to April 29

The robbery-conspiracy case against jeweler J. Robert Gomez of Mill Valley yesterday was continued until April 29 by San Francisco Superior Court Judge Francis McCarty.

One jury was dismissed after it deadlocked seven to five for acquittal in Gomez' first trial.

Larkspur Apartment Plan Is Approved

Revised parking plans by Norman Johnson for 12 apartments planned for the Larkspur Plaza were approved last night by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

Hugh C. Wood received architectural supervision for remodeling a building at 539 Magnolia Avenue. Commissioners reviewed portions of a proposed new subdivision ordinance.

Honor T Elects

DR. M. JUDSON MACKBY

ARTHUR EISLER
. . . Soloist

Second Concert Of Season Set In San Rafael

The San Rafael Chamber Orchestra under direction of Hugo Rinaldi will give its second concert of the season March 10 at 8 p.m. in San Rafael High School auditorium.

The major work of the evening will be "Il Maestro di Cappella" by Domenico Cimaresa with basso Dr. M. Judson Mackby of Kentfield as soloist. A second major work will be Dimitri Shestakovich's "Piano Concerto No. 1 for Piano, Strings and Trumpet" with Arthur Eisler of Greenbrae as piano soloist and Edward Haug of the San Francisco Symphony as trumpet soloist.

Other selections to be performed will be Haydn's "Symphony No. 98 in B Flat Major" and "Elegische Melodien" by Grieg.

Since he has been in Marin Dr. Mackby has sung with the San Francisco Symphony and San Francisco Opera. He has been a soloist with the Marin County Community Chorus, Winifred Baker Chorale and the Mill Valley Light Opera Company.

Dr. Mackby, who is a surgeon practicing in San Francisco, has been in Europe and just before World War II was a soloist in the Columbia University Glee Club.

Eisler came from Milwaukee, where he played with the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra and was a radio and television artist.

Since he has been in Marin Eisler has been active as a soloist, teacher and producer. He has played in private concerts in the Bay Area and began the Music for Minors program in Marin nine years ago.

The San Rafael Chamber Orchestra is sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

NOVATO TO GET NEW BUILDINGS

Business Area Will Grow In Plans Action

Several new commercial buildings will be added to the Novato business district as result of actions Monday night by the Novato Planning Commission.

Next to that, Joe De Ford was given architectural approval for another 2-,400-square-foot office building at 852 Sweetzer Avenue.

A. H. Tresch was granted architectural approval for a 10,250-square-foot commercial building on five and one-half acres on the west side of South Novato Boulevard south of the Warner Creek Bridge. This is the first building in what is planned as a shopping center near the Nave Shopping Center.

John Novak, Inc., was given architectural approval for a five-unit apartment house at 1132 Third Street.

The Northern California Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists was given permission to erect a 60-by-120-foot tent at 1811 Novato Boulevard from March 23 to June 16, to be used for church services.

Two zone changes instigated by the commission were passed. These change from limited agricultural to single family dwelling land on the north side of Olive Avenue between Fourth Street and Highway 101, and from multiple family to multiple family with highway frontage regulations, both sides of Sixth Street between Grant Avenue and Olive Avenue.

Rezoning from limited agricultural to multiple family of 10 acres on the west side of Highway 101 south of the Novato Fair Shopping Center was approved.

Continued until March 11 were requests by Clark E. Jacobson to divide 96,120 square feet on Canyon Road east of Ridge Road into three lots and by Castlerock Development Co. to divide 35,730 square feet on Marion Avenue west of Eighth Street into three lots.

Hearing on a request by Augene and Joyce McGillicuddy to rezone from duplex to multiple family a lot at 1020 Third Street was set for March 11.

TAX FACTS

Personal Bad Debts Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

On your Federal and California returns you can deduct your personal bad debts if:

1. A valid debt was made in 1962 or existed at January 1, 1962. To be deductible in 1962, the debt must have become worthless in 1962. That is, some event must have occurred in 1962 which led you to believe that the debt was uncollectible—such as bankruptcy, disappearance of the debtor, etc.

P. J. Wikel

2. The bad debt must have been included in your income or been a part of your capital. You cannot have a bad debt deduction for uncollectible wages, fees, rent, etc.

3. You cannot forgive a debtor his debt and take a deduction for it. You must have made every reasonable effort to collect the debt.

Personal loans to members of your family can be charged off as bad debts, but there must be clear cut evidence that it was a loan. It cannot be in any way, shape or form, a gift.

There must also be clear cut evidence that you have made every reasonable effort to collect.

If your bad debt and other capital losses are in excess of $1,000 and you are married, then you should consider filing separate returns. Both you and your wife can take $1,000. Any excess can be carried over into the next succeeding five years.

You can deduct up to $1,000 per year for the next five years if your losses amount to that much.

You can take it all in any year that you can deduct it from your capital gains.

Jury Says Appoint County School Head

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three articles on items in the Marin County Grand Jury's final report which were not covered completely in interim reports during the jury's service.)

By RANDALL GOULD

The Marin County school superintendent should be appointed by the board of education rather than elected by the voters, believes the education committee of the 1962 county grand jury.

This recommendation was one of many in the final report of the grand jury filed recently by foreman Irving Chapman. Chairman of the education committee was Charles H. Merrill Jr.

The recommendation was made, says the report, because members of the committee "heard much public sentiment favoring a change in the law which would require the appointment of county school superintendents in the smaller and/or non-chartered counties by the elected county boards of education."

As matters stand, both the superintendent and the board are elected in Marin County. "Both appear to be making policy," the committee reported.

For this reason "the cause of education and efficient government would be greatly enhanced if the superintendent of administrative officer of the county were chosen by and responsible to the elected board of education."

Although the committee was not specifically requested to investigate school district unification, the report found that "it is well known that certain local problems present great difficulties and major aspects of the unification program remain unsolved . . . This committee recommends that the 1963 jury take an active interest in this problem."

The committee expressed itself as impressed by "the urgent need for an improved and expanded apprenticeship program for Marin County youth" and felt schools could improve their presentations with the help of trade and industry.

"Only two out of 10 students will join the professions," says the report. The other students need training and the nation needs their skills."

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis was criticized in the report as having "overstepped the prerogatives of his office and exhibited questionable judgment" in devoting time and public funds in "a widely publicized attempt to determine the county-by-county outcome in the state superintendent of public instruction contest — a chore customarily left to the secretary of state."

This wallop comes just before the suggestion that the school board should attend to policy, with the superintendent to be appointive.

A final suggestion relates to the Sausalito School District about which the committee lacked time to inquire, but it urged the 1963 jury "to inquire immediately into the tangled affairs of the Sausalito district as it relates to the Housing Authority and the county board of supervisors.

Youth Injured Target Shooting

Stephen George Swigard, 18, of Greenbrae, who entered Marin General Hospital Monday with a gunshot wound, told investigators he suffered the wound while target shooting near Watsonville Saturday afternoon.

The weapon was a .22-caliber Ruger revolver. Swigard told Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Mythaler that the gun unexpectedly went off, and the bullet entered the right leg just above the knee and lodged itself at the ankle. He and his brother and two friends were visiting a ranch in Pleasant Valley at the time.

Swigard got emergency treatment at Watsonville, then entered Marin General Hospital. He was to be transferred to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland to have the bullet removed. He lives at 150 Corte Ramon in Greenbrae.

Hill Owners To Form Unit

Residents of Christmas Tree Hill in Corte Madera are being invited to attend a meeting at Larkspur-Corte Madera School at 8 p.m. March 11 to form a Hill Owners Assn., Mrs. Ralph E. White of 236 Morningside Drive announced today.

The move is a direct result of the nearly six months delay in getting a patio removed from Ridge Way, a 56-year-old path between Crescent Road and Morningside Drive, said Mrs. White.

The Corte Madera Town Council will discuss the problem again Monday night.

Adult School Set At Drake High

Spring semester of the adult evening school at Sir Francis Drake High School will be held from March 25 to June 7.

Color photography, clothing, piano, civics, woodworking, professional writing, Spanish and skin diving will be offered on Tuesdays from 7:30 till 9:30 p.m.

Organ, civics, rugmaking, bookkeeping, typing, Russian and sewing are given on Thursdays from 7:30 till 9:30 p.m.

Joint Schools Meeting Tonight

Dixie and San Jose School District boards and San Rafael Board of Education will meet jointly this evening to discuss curriculum problems which exist when three districts send students to the same high school.

Students from all three districts attend Terra Linda High School.

The joint meeting will be held in the San Rafael High School faculty dining room. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Immediately following the joint meeting, the Dixie trustees will hold a special meeting to award a contract for construction of a kindergarten room at Lucas Valley School. Bids were to be opened at 4 p.m. in the district office.

Named By Class

Dean Bandes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bandes of 14 Bay Vista Drive, Strawberry Manor, has been elected 1965 class representative of the Williams College Jewish Assn. at Williamstown, Mass.

County Rec Director Job Near

Recruiting for a newly created post of county director of parks and recreation has been carried to a point where somebody probably will be hired about April 1 County Administrator Alan Bruce reported to Marin County supervisors yesterday.

He asked action to provide office and work space in the Civic Center.

Supervisors William D. Fusselman and William Gnoss said the new official should be on the same floor with the county planning commission.

"There seems to be ample room in the planners' lobby," said Fusselman. "Have you ever seen it filled with customers?"

Bruce said no but there was a lot of traffic through. He recommended a survey by the civic center committee, which was approved.

The supervisors also:

1. Appointed Auditor Michael Mitchell to the Marin County Safety Commission post left vacant by death of his predecessor, Leon A. de Lisle.

2. Proclaimed Feb. 24-March 2 "Bay Area Week" during which citizens are to consider the area's "bountiful resources" and the need to coordinate effort to conserve them.

3. On assurance of reimbursement from state funds, named Betty Mobley halftime physical therapist at $254 monthly in the health department.

4. Referred to Public Works Director Donald R. Frost a College of Marin request for a left-turn signal at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and College Avenue, Kentfield.

5. Due to illness of Chairman Walter R. Castro, continued to March 12 setting a hearing on proposed amendment to the Marinwood Master Plan, and application of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for expansion of the Ignacio electric substation.

6. Authorized Herrero Brothers to go ahead with an extra $529 worth of work on the county garage at 519 Fourth Street, San Rafael, to add to safety.

7. Told Frost to help the National Assn. of County Engineers' Management Research Conference in San Francisco March 8-9, bringing the group to the Civic Center.

8. Authorized $432.80 work to remedy failure of underground electric cable in Kent Woodlands affecting four lights in the Kentfield Street Lighting District.

9. Approved tentative map of Marinero Residence Unit 2, Tiburon; installation of filtering equipment for Coast Springs Water Co. at Dillon's Beach, and Robert M. Wineman's use permit to establish a small boat harbor on San Antonio Creek north of Novato.

New Typewriter Stolen From Car

Someone stole a brand new portable typewriter from a car parked outside a home in Bayside Acres about 9:30 p.m. Monday, sheriff's deputies reported today.

The victim, Jean Barbara Pape, of 15 Main Street, said she heard the dog barking and went to investigate. A car with loud mufflers pulled away. Her $70 typewriter, in a light blue leather case, was missing from her parked 1960 sedan.

In Exercise

Pfc. Henry Quan, son of Mrs. Grace Quan, Route 1, San Rafael, took part in recent "Exercise Timberline" with others of the 23rd Infantry's 1st Battle Group in the central Alaskan wilderness this month. He is a rifleman.

Car Hits New Center Post

Key Club Elects

Hub Will Call For Police Car Bids

San Anselmo will call for bids for three new police cars —all Chevrolets.

City Councilman Arthur W. Smith last night glanced at the specifications for police cars and asked Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani: "I take it you want Chevrolets?"

"Yes," said the chief. "We've had good experience with them."

City Administrator Douglas Flautt said he would ask for bids from the three Chevrolet dealers in the county, just as the city did last year.

The San Anselmo city council also:

1. Called for bids for a pedestrian crossing signal on San Anselmo Avenue at Ross Avenue. Cost is estimated at $1,500. Police Chief Buchignani reported that schools did not have children serving as crossing guards last semester, but the school crossing guards will be reactivated.

2. Asked Administrator Flautt to get information on garbage franchise fees in other cities and arrange a meeting with Victor Vallerga, who has the garbage franchise in San Anselmo. Vallerga's contract will end in November of 1964. He wants a 10-year extension.

Americans wrote 15 billion checks in 1962. Pulpwood required to produce the paper on which the checks were written would make a stack four feet wide, eight feet long and 25 miles high.

Best Fallout Shelters In San Anselmo Listed

In case of nuclear attack, the best shelters in San Anselmo are the Safeway Store building on San Anselmo Avenue, Scott Hall at the San Francisco Theological Seminary, and Cheda Building on Tunstead Avenue, according to state and federal disaster officials.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt told the city council last night he has received word from disaster officials that Safeway building can hold 1,000 persons; Cheda Building, 500, and Scott Hall, 200.

City councilmen authorized Mayor John M. Reichmuth to execute an agreement with the owners of the buildings for this use as fallout shelters.

"The Cheda Building looks like a fire hazard to me," said Councilman Arthur W. Smith. "It has only one entrance."

"I guess they (disaster officials) know what they are doing," commented Mayor Reichmuth.

"I can tell you one thing," said William Franchini. "In case of attack, I'm not going to the Cheda Building."

Tires, Wheels Stolen

Theft of two tires and wheels from a small portable heater at the construction site of the Northgate Shopping Center was reported to San Rafael police Monday by Charles H. Tadlock, superintendent for the general contractors, Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick of San Francisco. Tadlock said the tires and wheels were stolen sometime during the long week end.

SCHOOL CANDIDACY DEADLINE NEARING

Candidates for the April 16 trustee elections in Marin's school districts are rapidly increasing as the filing deadline nears.

Only two days remain in which to file candidacy papers with the Marin County superintendent of schools The deadline is 5 p.m. Friday.

"We expect a land office business between 4 and 5 p.m. on the last day," said Asst. Supt. Rudolph S. Kupfer.

A total of 64 candidates had filed by noon today. But there were still three districts—Bolinas-Stinson elementary, Tomales High and Union Joint—with more trustee terms expiring than candidates to fill them.

The Marin County Board of Education was also lacking candidates. Four terms will expire on the board, and only incumbents Adele J. Alpers of San Rafael and Walter L. Johnson of Ignacio had filed.

Eight new candidates filed for school boards this morning and yesterday. They are:

H. B. Hennessy, incumbent, for the Fairfax district; Georgette Vilas of 168 Central Avenue, Woodacre, for the Lagunitas district; Wallace G. Colthurst of 184 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera, for the Larkspur district; Louis F. Hawkins of 45 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, for the Mill Valley district; Harris C. Jackson Jr. of 5 Summers Avenue, Novato, for Novato Unified District; K. L. Rice of 401 Hilary Drive, Tiburon, for Reed district; and Robert L. Mayer of 70 George Lane, Sausalito, and Mrs. Eva M. Turner of Building C-44-352, Marin City, for the Sausalito district board.

City Council Approves Novato Pool

The Novato City Council last night approved an agreement with Novato Unified School District for a community swimming pool to be located on the high school campus.

The agreement was approved last week by the school board. Novato voters last November authorized a $100,000 bond issue for the pool.

Mayor M. E. Silva and Councilman Lucile Cannon will serve as a committee for the city council to meet with the school board to select an architect.

Buffer Zone Around Sewer Plant In San Rafael Called 'Premature'

Attorney Samuel W. Gardiner, representing Marin Canalways, last night objected to what he called "improper use of zoning to protect a nuisance—a stink pot," referring to a proposed 1,000-foot buffer zone around the east San Rafael sewage treatment plant.

Speaking during a San Rafael City Planning Commission hearing, Gardiner said the proposed circle of industrial zoning around the plant is "premature" because no owner of land in the area is ready to plan development.

"What the devil are you jumping the gun for?" he demanded. "Why don't you ask your city attorney if it is proper for you to zone to protect a nuisance?"

"It does not stink. Sometimes it just has an odor."

Selmi said that the district is spending about $400,000 to provide secondary treatment facilities at the plant, which he said would reduce the odor.

What the district wants, Selmi explained, is to be sure that surrounding landowners at some future time won't build residences or commercial buildings "like food markets" which could result in complaints about the treatment plant.

Glen Wentz, a real estate man with interests in the Kerner-Bellam tract, objected to the proposed zoning, although commission members pointed out to him that his holdings already are in the same zone.

Wentz said that things might change "in 20 or 30 years" and he might want to change the zone.

The L. H. Lincoln Corp. sent a letter asking that action be delayed.

A second hearing will be held March 13.

Tiburon Group To Meet On Its Future

The Tiburon Peninsula Council has invited about 70 community leaders to a meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Bel Aire School.

Chairman Branwell Fanning said the group will discuss the future of the council and its possible reorganization. The meeting is open to the public, he said.

JAPANESE GIRL NEW 'CITIZEN'

Miyoko Ueyama, American Field Service exchange student from Japan, was named the first honorary citizen of Novato in a ceremony at the opening of the city council meeting last night in the community house.

Mrs. George McDaniel, president of the Novato Community Ambassadors who sponsor the exchange student program, introduced Miyoko to the council.

"I am so proud of my home town in America," she said after Mayor M. E. Silva presented her with a certificate of honorary citizenship.

Novato May Soon Get City Seal

The City of Novato may soon have an official seal to be used on cars and letterheads.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget last night told the city council that he would have several designs from which to choose from at the March 12 council meeting. These may include some drawn by Novato High School students, he said.

Garbage dumping near the Novato sanitary district office has been cleaned up, Councilman Everett Pozzi reported. He said members of the Novato Trap Club cleaned up the field, which it uses for target practice, and there has been no further problem.

Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo was awarded a contract for trimming 30 trees on Elm Drive on a low bid of $1,398. Only other bidder was Morrison Tree Experts of San Anselmo at $1,515.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Accepted Novato Gardens subdivision as completed, on recommendation of Donald R. Frost, county director of public works.

2. Received the January cash report showing the city started the month with $345,622; spent $41,139; took in $13,525, and ended the month with $318,007.

3. Set for March 12 hearing on a request by Harry Heifetz to rezone from commercial to multiple the land from Yukon Way to Leafwood Drive west of Highway 101 and east of South Novato Boulevard; and continued to the same time a request by Sutter Development Co. to rezone from commercial to multiple dwelling, land adjacent to the Heifetz land at Sunset Parkway east to Highway 101.

4. Approved a tentative map for Kristin Hill Acres.

5. Set for March 12 hearing on rezoning nine acres between Adrienne Street and Oleander Lane from limited agricultural to planned residential, requested by Gus Ravetz, and for March 26 hearing on a request to rezone land from commercial to multiple dwelling adjacent to the Nave Shopping Center, requested by William and Irene Nave.

6. Increased the mileage allowance for the city building inspector from $20 to $34 per month.

7. Heard a suggestion by City Planner Robert Lagle that the city charge a fee for appeals from planning commission denials, and instructed him to check on practices in other cities.

8. Named Councilmen Lucile Cannon and Howard Schoof to meet with Lagle and representatives of the engineering department and home owners organizations to work out a grading ordinance.

9. Rezoned about 30 lots at Sunset Parkway and San Jose Boulevard from single family to duplex. Vote was 4-0 with Councilman Pozzi abstaining "for personal reasons."

10. Authorized Lagle to draw up an amendment to the building code calling for inspections of septic tanks.

11. Adjourned to March 5 to meet with a state personnel department representative to work on a personnel ordinance.

Mantle Gets 100 Gs

Mantle's 1963 pay is about $15,000 more than he reportedly received last year.

The 31-year-old switch-hitter was named the American League's most valuable player and led the Yanks to the pennant despite a series of crippling injuries.

Mantle wound up with a .321 batting average and 30 home runs. Without him in the lineup, the Yankees sagged. With him they staged a stretch drive and won comfortably.

Three other greats of the game earned $100,000 in one season. They were Joe DiMaggio, the old Yankee Clipper, Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals. Mays joined the exclusive "club" last week.

Yankee officials, in a statement signed by co-owner Dan Topping and General Manager Roy Hamey, said they were glad to pay Mantle $100,000 and hoped that other Yankees in the future would be worth as much.

Warriors Romp Over Weary Celts, 128-112

After eight successive defeats at the hands of the Boston Celtics, the San Francisco Warriors revenged themselves last night by coasting to an easy 128-112 victory over the Celtics at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

The Celtics, obviously worn in the game, their fifth in seven days on the road, were outclassed by the San Franciscans throughout the contest.

The win for San Francisco kept the Warriors in contention for the third place position in the upcoming Western Division playoffs of the National Basketball Assn.

Wilt Chamberlain, after tallying 13 points in his last outing against the St. Louis Hawks, picked up some of his easily earned him high score honors for both teams.

Play was halted late in the fourth quarter and the 6,491 fans applauded Bob Cousy in his last San Francisco appearance. His 13-year professional basketball career will end this year, he has said.

Cousy was given the game ball during a small, on-the-floor ceremony. Cousy hit 17 points for the night.

Drake 'B' Team Puts Some Frosting On Title Cake

The Drake High School class B team won its last game of the season yesterday over Novato High School 37-26 and finished the season with a league mark of 11 wins and one loss.

The Drake lightweights had already clinched the Marin Athletic League title last week and yesterday's win juts put some more frosting on the cake.

In other games on the B circuit yesterday, Marin Catholic dropped Tamalpais 46-40 to tie for second place with San Rafael which defeated Redwood 43-32.

High scorers for Drake in its victory over Novato were guard Dennis Hannigan and forward Larry Stein, each with 10 points. Other starters on the champion Drake B team are center Paul Bridges, forward Terry Politi and guard Bob DeMartini.

Redwood Ace Witt Named Prep Of Week

Hillard Witt, 6-4 junior forward for Redwood High School, has been selected as Prep of the Week by the Independent-Journal for his basketball play last week.

Witt, an outstanding student, is the top rebounder on the Redwood basketball team and is highly praised by coach Dick Hart. The outstanding cager earned a varsity letter last year as a sophomore and will be around next year to help Redwood's chances on the basketball front.

Witt scored 13 points Feb. 19 when the Giants clobbered Terra Linda 68-33 and then scored 21 points last Friday when the Redwood cagers downed Novato 55-39.

The second leading scorer on the Redwood roster, Witt has scored 155 points this season for a 12.9 average.

Cepeda May Be In For Long Wait

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — With pitcher Jack Sanford agreeing to a contract estimated at $37,000, first baseman Orlando Cepeda remains the only holdout among the San Francisco Giants and he could be in for a long waiting game.

Cepeda says he has been asked to take a cut from his $46,500 contract of 1962 and he isn't happy with the idea.

So he remains at home in Puerto Rico as the National League champions train in Arizona.

Sanford, who won 24 games as the Giants captured the pennant, had asked for $40,000 for his services this year. While the club didn't announce the figure which brought agreement, Manager Alvin Dark did say it was a compromise between what the Giants had offered and what Sanford had asked.

While the club seemed anxious to reach terms with big Jack, there doesn't appear the same urgency in the case of Cepeda.

He started the past season slugging impressively and then slumped badly during the crucial closing weeks. "We may have some report on Cepeda by Thursday," Dark reported after telling of the agreement reached by Sanford and Charles "Chub" Feeney, Giants vice president.

At $37,000, the 200-pound right-hander from Duxbury, Mass., would be getting a $13,000 raise or $1,000 in increase for every game he completed in 1962, not including his World Series victory.

Sanford proved the big winner for the Giants last year and pitched brilliantly in the World Series although losing the deciding game by a 1-0 score in a duel with the New York Yankees Ralph Terry. In 23⅓ World Series innings, the fireball thrower had a 1.96 earned run average against the Yankees.

Marin Gains Tie For Lead; Title Showdown This Week

The College of Marin Tars today were tied for the top spot in the Golden Valley Conference basketball campaign.

Using a full-court press and fast break to full advantage, the Tars last night whipped Napa College 89-68 on the Chiefs' courts. The victory lifted the Mariners to a first place tie with Shasta College with one game remaining. Both have 9-2 records.

The Tars will wind up the regular season Friday night in the Drake High School gym at 8 o'clock when they take on Santa Rosa Junior College. A win will insure a tie for the championship. Shasta will take on Yuba College Saturday night in its last game.

Last night's game was evenly matched for 15 minutes of the first half but then Marin put up a full-court press which was too much for Napa to cope with.

By the time the first half was over, the Mariners were leading 36-30. The Tars capitalized on Napa mistakes during the second half and kept the Chiefs off balance with the press to win their fifth straight game.

Coach Cal Riemcke called the contest "one of the better games of the season" for the Mariners.

Dave Neumann was the leading scorer for the Tars with 20 points. He was followed by Charlie Bullock with 19. Randy Petrini was the leading rebounder with nine off the backboards. Pete Bardea played a fine floor game by snagging six rebounds in the second half and stealing the ball from the Chiefs on many occasions.

College of Marin scoring: Charlie Bullock, 8-3-19; Brad Busch, 3-2-8; Dave Neumann, 9-2-20; Pete Bardea, 1-7-9; Steve Bryant, 3-4-10; Randy Petrini, 5-3-13; Mike Kavanagh, 2-4-8; Bob Nehls, 1-1-3. Totals 32-25—89.

Napa scoring: Waggoner, 6-3-15; Robertson, 2-4-7; Baracco, 1-0-2; Romer, 5-3-13; Hulse, 6-4-16; Wold, 1-0-2; Gunn, 1-0-2; Donahue, 4-2-10. Totals 26-16—68.

San Rafael Ace Wins Scoring Title; Marin Catholic Upsets Tam Champs

San Rafael High School junior sharpshooter Rod Monti is the individual basketball scoring champion of the Marin County Athletic League for 1963.

Monti scored 16 points yesterday in San Rafael's 46-36 victory over Redwood to surpass Novato's Nick Willard in the scoring race with a 12-game season total of 210 points, a 17.5 average per game.

Willard, who started the final game of the season two points ahead of Monti, scored only seven points yesterday in the Hornets' 44-52 loss to Drake and wound up with a season total of 202.

In the other final game of the season Marin Catholic clinched undisputed second place by beating champion Tamalpais 48-39 as Wildcat Ron O'Connell pumped through 24 points for a season total of 200 and third place in the individual scoring.

Monti's rush to the scoring title saw the 6-2 Bulldog forward tank eight points in each half on a total of six field goals and four charities as San Rafael easily led all the way to nail down third place (8-4) in final team standings. John McKinnon turned in an all-around fine game for San Rafael and contributed nine points to the cause. Redwood's Hillard Witt, one of the league's leading rebounders, hauled down 14 retrieves yesterday.

DOOR OPEN

Over at Drake, meanwhile, the host Pirates double-teamed Willard effectively, but left the door open for some fancy shooting by Hornet Barry Hackmyer who found the range for 23 points and had Novato on the verge of an upset.

Novato rallied in the second and third periods to take a 41-38 lead and stayed on top at 43-41 with 2:48 remaining in the game. However, Carl Brown's Pirates turned on the steam in the final minutes to pull the game out of the fire. The spurt came on five foul shots by Larry Gaddy and field goals by Bruce Ketron, Curt Jensen and Bob Brackett.

Gaddy followed Novato's Hackmyer in scoring with 19.

Tam Coach Eddie Chavez, preparing his Indians for two championship tournaments in March at Sacramento and Berkeley, started an all-junior lineup against Marin Catholic. Before he could call in his senior stars, Marin raced off to a 14-1 lead and at quarter's end it was a runaway 18-1 margin. Tam never could recover. O'Connell had 12 points in the first quarter and in the first half hit on 6 of 8 field goal attempts in a dazzling display of accuracy

O'Connell's 8 field goals gave him a season total of 49, tops in the league, but he scored fewer foul shots than Monti and Willard.

Tam's Art Foster led the Indians with 12 points and 16 rebounds.

While the rest of the league put its basketball gear away for the season, Tam will continue workouts for play in Sacramento's Camellia Tournament March 7-8-9 and Berkeley's Tournament of Champions March 14-15-16.

'HELP, I'M SURROUNDED!'

Bruce Nave (with ball) of St. Raphael's School fifth grade team found himself pretty well surrounded by the "enemy" Sunday in the finals of the CYO Archdiocesan Basketball Championships in San Francisco. Nave and his teammates lost the finals game at Sacred Heart High School to the Holy Name School team of San Francisco, 33-15. In fact, all four St. Raphael's School finalists lost—the sixth graders to St. Cecilia, 31-10; seventh graders to St. Cecilia, 28-25, and eighth graders to Star of the Sea, 34-19. The tournament Sunday was the conclusion to the season-long CYO program which saw 3,000 boys participate in 2,400 games from San Rafael to San Jose. The St. Raphael's teams were winners in the North Bay area.

DID LISTON REALLY HURT THAT KNEE?

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — After several days of sparring between promoters, managers, advisers, press agents—and incidentally Sonny Liston—the heavyweight championship fight between Liston and Floyd Patterson has been put off until April 10.

Before anyone suggested publicly the wrangling over a postponement might be a gambit to attract national publicity, Liston's adviser, Jack Nilon, announced yesterday that "he pulled a muscle and we've got X-rays to prove it."

Liston, who has not made a public statement since the fight over the fight began, said through a spokesman that he would resume training today, six days after reportedly injuring his knee while swinging a golf club.

"No mater what anyone says, we wanted this fight on the fourth of April as originally scheduled," Nilon insisted.

SUPER MAN?

"Everybody tells me what a superman this guy is supposed to be," said Florio. "Any kid old enough to read the comics can tell you that supermen don't injure their knees swinging golf clubs."

Al Bolan, general manager of Championship Sports, Inc., also looked askance at the knee injury. He claimed that Nilon asked for the postponement out of spite, "and if he did, it was pretty stupid."

There have been rumors that Nilon and Championship Sports have been feuding since the first Liston-Patterson fight, which lasted less than three minutes and ended with Patterson on the canvas, an ex-champion.

It was reported Sunday that Liston hurt his knee while swinging a golf club for a photographer on Thursday. Reporters who saw his work out the next day said he seemed to be in no pain.

For several days, rumors and counter-rumors were batted about over whether Liston wanted a postponement. April 10th became the official date when both Nilon and Bolan agreed to it.

"We picked the 10th because the 11th is Holy Thursday and besides, Wednesday is a better date for closed circuit theater television," said Bolan.

Cepeda Rates All He Asks

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Let us consider, for the moment, the case of Orlando Cepeda, Giant first baseman, who is in a hassle with Horace Stoneham over his salary demands for the 1963 season.

It is hard to take sides with either party to the wrangle when you don't know, for sure, what Cepeda got last year or what he has been offered this season. Some silly idea prevails that it is none of the public's business what a ball player is paid—a trade secret, so to say.

Clubowners believe, and sincerely so, that an inflated salary for any player makes him more of a drawing card. For instance, I've been told the reason Willie Mays is supposed to be getting $110,000 a season is purely for publicity purposes.

When Willie first hit the high wage bracket, the fans visiting New York used to whisper around hotel lobbies they were going out to the Polo Grounds to see what that little fellow was like. For that bit of curiosity, the Giants have felt, ever since, that the more they say they pay Mays, the more curious fans get.

BUT, IN the case of Cepeda, we have a strange problem.

Cepeda argues that he outhits Mays in the averages, is considered his equal in runs batted in, and has been alternating with him as leader in belting home runs. In 1961 Orlando got 46 home runs while Mays hit 40. Last season Mays got 49 as compared to 35 for Cepeda.

Mays hit for a .304 average in 1962 and Cepeda hit .306. The 1961 season found Cepeda hitting .311 and Mays .308.

But comparing Mays and Cepeda, other than their respective salaries, is unfair to both.

MAYS WILL always be a greater drawing card than Cepeda because he is more spectacular in every department.

Cepeda can hit with Mays or anybody else. He should be the greatest hitter in baseball, and probably will, before long.

Cepeda's claim for more dough is based on what has happened since he became a Giant. He sees Bob Garibaldi signed for a $150,000 bonus; Bob Bolin got $80,000 as a rookie pitcher; Mike McCormick got $80,000 and couldn't deliver; Harvey Kuenn commanded a $40,000 salary and in his first year as a Giant batted .265; and Willie McCovey in four years with the Giants has only hit .300 once.

The big sugar paid to untried rookies irks Cepeda who got peanuts for signing and has been fighting to pry loose more money each season.

CEPEDA WILL get his demands, as will pitcher Jack Sanford, but betwixt and between their signing, is a lot of free and easy wrangling that is best forgotten.

Chub Feeney, the vice president of the Giants, claims Cepeda was off color last year and Alvin Dark, the manager, brags Cepeda should hit .350, or else he's tabbed as having an off year.

In my book that convinces me Cepeda is worth every dime he asks. He gave up a few pennies last winter by not engaging in winter ball. He sees a chance to get it back by holding out. I hope he gets it, and gets it fast. What would the Giants be without Cepeda? Or have you an idea?

Chicago To Drop Golden Gloves

CHICAGO (AP) — The Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions apparently is making its last appearance in Chicago Stadium.

Wilfrid Smith, sports editor of the sponsoring Chicago Tribune, said yesterday a National AAU ruling requiring amateur boxers to wear headgear next year sounded the tournament's death knell in Chicago.

The current tourney, drawing upwards of 240 boxers from 31 cities in 20 states, is the 36th annual meet. Golden Glove leaders planned to meet with Smith again today, possibly to plan continuing a final tournament at such centers as Denver, Minneapolis, Fort Worth or Louisville, on a rotating basis.

Santa Clara Cagers Slip By USF 66-65

SAN JOSE (AP)—Santa Clara eked out a 66-65 West Coast Athletic Conference basketball victory over the University of San Francisco last night but a resultant three-way tie for first place may not last 24 hours.

St. Mary's, the third sharer of the top WCAC rung with a 7-2 record, meets the University of Pacific at Stockton tonight. A victory would put the Gaels, who were idle last night, back on top at 8-2.

Santa Clara and USF staged a seesaw battle in the first half before the host Broncos managed a 32-31 halftime lead. The Broncs grabbed the lead for good at 11:40 of the second half and with 4:56 remaining were on top by eight points, 64-56.

Then, while Santa Clara got only two more points, and those by Joe Weiss off a goaltending call against USF's Ollie Johnson, USF got 9 more points, 7 by Bob Lee. Lee was the high man for the game with 20.

With 12 seconds left the Dons picked up their final two points on a layup by Dave Belluomini who was fouled but missed the charity shot.

Harlem Clowns To Return To Redwood Gym March 7

Tickets are now on sale for a basketball game between the Harlem Clowns and the Redwood High School faculty slated for March 7 in the Redwood gym, it was announced today.

The game is being sponsored by the Redwood Benchwarmers Club. In charge is Hal Keller, Benchwarmers' spring sports vice president.

Before the game, music will be presented by the Redwood Dixieland Band at 7 p.m. The fun-frolicking game is set to start at 8 p.m. Last year's game between the faculty and Harlem Clowns drew about 2,000 fans.

Redwood High School's Letterman Club also announced plans to hold a twist contest during the halftime of the game. Prizes will go to the winners. The club is also selling tickets to the game.

Tickets can be purchased at Jack's Drug Store and Bill's Sport Shop in San Anselmo, Taveggia-Brusati Sport and Saddle Shop and Herb's Sport Shop in San Rafael, Weil's Liquor Store in Mill Valley and the Ross Grocery Store.

Tickets may also be purchased at the door. Prices are $1.50 for adults, $1 for students and 50 cents for children of elementary school age.

MARIN COLLEGE ATHLETES SET REUNION MAR. 8

Fifteenth reunion of College of Marin football and basketball players of the 1946-47-48 era has been scheduled for Friday, March 8, 6:30 p.m. at Nave Lanes in Ignacio.

The get-together will include a cocktail hour and dinner, according to committeeman Walt Moreno, junior college All-American on Marin's 1948 national campionship basketball team. He said former coaches Arleigh Williams (football) and Irwin "Red" Diamond (basketball) would be honored guests.

Marin gridders and cagers of the 1946-47-48 period should make reservations with any of the following committeemen: Moreno, Art Fiedler, Jack Ertola, Bill Nave, Bob McLaughlin, Bill Ray, Ditch Williams or Vince Tringall.

AFL Teams Get 32 More Footballers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The third annual "redshirt draft" added 32 players to the rosters of the eight American Football League clubs today.

This draft, limited to collegians whose class had graduated but who had another year in college athletics, was limited to selections of National Football League clubs.

The objective was to maintain recruiting parity since most of these players will be eligible to sign contracts before the regular league draft is held next December.

In other words, the AFL is drafting players brought to its attention by the NFL, and who could not be included in the regular draft list because the AFL, with fewer clubs, could not draft as many as the rival league.

Dennis Claridge, quarterback, Nebraska; Dick Skelly, halfback, Florida; Larry Campbell, fullback, Utah State; Dick Anderson, end, Penn State.

Lavorante Can Open One Eye

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alejandro Lavorante still is in a coma, more than five months after he was knocked out by Johnny Riggins. But the Argentine heavyweight can now open one eye a little.

Boxing promoter George Parnassus said after a visit to California Lutheran Hospital yesterday that Lavorante is about 20 pounds heavier than he was before his knockout here last Sept. 21.

Doctors still don't know whether Lavorante will regain full consciousness.

Four In Race For Two Seats On Reed School Board

Three candidates who have displayed an active interest in community affairs have joined incumbent trustee and board president David D. Ring in the April 16 race for two openings on the Reed Union School District board.

Ring, a Tiburon attorney with an office in San Francisco, is seeking a second four-year term. Trustee Erwin Farley, who term also expires this year is not running again.

The other candidates are Mrs. Marilyn C. Steinau of 32 Windward Road, Belvedere; Leonard M. Sperry Jr. of 2 Spring Lane, Tiburon, and Fred C. Hannah of 440 Ridge Road, Tiburon.

Mrs. Steinau is the wife of architect Allan Steinau of the firm of Hatch, White, Harmann and Steinau. They have lived in Marin since 1954.

Mrs. Steinau served on a committee to study unification of Reed and other elementary school districts in Tamalpais High School District, which in 1962 recommended unification. However, Mrs. Steinau filed a minority dissent to the report, which she said was too optimistic, ignored practical and political aspects of unification, and was based only on the financial.

The Reed board appointed Mrs. Steinau to another committee which was assigned to study the first committee's report. The group later came up with a proposal for a unified district embracing only the Tiburon Peninsula.

Hannah, who is secretary of the Tiburon Fire Protection District board and former secretary of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council, has been critical of the county's handling of planning and zoning in Tiburon. He favors incorporating the community.

Sperry, who is deputy attorney general of California, has been a Marin resident since 1959. He belongs to the American Bar Assn., San Francisco Bar Assn., the executive board of the American Jewish Committee, San Francisco Chapter, and the Jewish Community Relations Council of San Francisco and the Bay Area.

Last year Sperry served on a committee to study Reed District finances and building needs, and to make recommendations on bond issues. The committee recommended a dual proposal which was on the ballot last month, in which a $550,000 local bond issue and authority to borrow $2,370,000 won voter approval.

SPRING FRUIT MEDLEY

Bananas Add Sunshine

It's that time of year . . . the mid-winter doldrums . . . when all seem dreary, and even the groundhog can't seem to make up its mind about Spring! Meals, too, tend to be humdrum. Hearty they must be, to provide the fuel needed to cope with the increased energy output the weather demands. But even more necessary is the daily complement of vitamins and minerals that only fresh fruit can bring.

Ready for good nutrition and delightful taste at any season are golden bananas. A favorite fruit bowl staple for anytime snacks (only 88 calories, remember, in a minimum banana), they bring tropical sunshine to a Fruit Medley. Plentiful and good-priced, too, are juicy winter pears. For color and texture contrast, add the snap of apples, and grapes. Fresh citrus may sometimes be scarce, but there's always frozen or canned fruit aplenty to fill in.

Crisp greens, and a new and interesting salad dressing, complete the inviting and delicious Fruit Medley. Delightful as a salad course, it also serves as a combined salad-dessert to end a particularly hearty meal on a bright and refreshing note.

FRUIT MEDLEY

Salad greens
3 oranges, peeled and sectioned*
1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned*
2 red-skinned apples, cored and sliced
2 pears, cored and sliced
¼ pound grapes, pitted and sliced
2-3 bananas, peeled

Line bottom of salad bowl with crisp greens. Arrange cut-up fruit, except bananas, on the greens. Slice bananas crosswise, then lengthwise, and stand around the inside of salad bowl. Makes 4-6 servings.

(*or use frozen or canned fruit)

SUNSHINE SALAD DRESSING

½ cup lemon juice
6 tablespoons honey
3 tablespoons apricot nectar
½ teaspoon salt

Sweet Buns From Czechoslovakia

American cooks like to adapt foreign recipes for yeast breads to suit their own fancies. Now comes a version of Kaloche, popular in Czechoslovakia and some of the other European countries.

What's Kolache? Sweet filled buns. Dried fruits are popular for the fillings because they add tang as well as sweetness.

Two fillings for the buns are given in this recipe, one using prunes and the other apricots. When we tested the rule, we halved each filling recipe and had two kinds of Kolache at one baking.

AMERICAN KOLACHE

¾ cup milk
½ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 packages active dry yeast
½ cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
3 to 3½ cups sifted flour
2 egg yolks (lightly beaten)
1 cup enriched white cornmeal
Prune or Apricot Filling.

SCALD MILK; pour over butter, sugar, salt and lemon rind; stir until butter is melted; cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast over warm water and stir to dissolve. Stir 1 cup flour and the egg yolks into the milk mixture; add dissolved yeast and cornmeal. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; knead until satiny — about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted butter. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down; let rise again until nearly double, about 30 minutes. Punch down; shape into 24 two-inch balls; place on cookie sheets. Cover; let rise until light, about 20 minutes. Make a depression in center of each and fill each with about 1 tablespoon Prune or Apricot Filling. Brush with melted butter. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm or reheat.

PRUNE FILLING: Mix together 2 cups finely-chopped drained cooked prunes, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ¼ teaspoon salt. Enough for 24 Kolache.

APRICOT FILLING: Mix together 2 cups finely-chopped drained cooked dried apricots, ⅓ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ¼ teaspoon salt. Enough for 24 Kolache.

Same Cut Of Beef Has Many Names

Did you know that the same cut of beef may be called a club steak, sirloin steak, sirloin strip steak, or Delmonico steak, depending on what part of the country you're in? More and more new names and cuts are appearing on meat counters as retailers look for ways to sell more meat.

Farm Journal reports that the three most preferred meats for family-type meals are beef steak, beef roast and ground beef. For company meals, the three most preferred meats are beef roast, baked ham and beef steak. The greatest increase in usage was reported for boneless cuts of fresh meats. Greatest decrease was reported for frozen meat pies and canned meats other than ham. Beef is the most popular meat, pork is second.

Creamy Onion Dressing

Combine 2 tablespoons instant minced onion with 1 cup sour cream, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon sugar and dash of salt. Chill. Serve over salad greens tossed with cucumber and radish slices.

Dry Soup Mix Coupled With Vegetable Good Combination

Not all the king's horses and all the king's men could convince us that sometimes making a soup yourself isn't worthwhile.

But we don't mind using a prepared soup to help along. In the following recipe a small can of dry onion soup mix is coupled with one of winter's best vegetables, broccoli, to make a good cold-weather contribution.

Is the committee you're working with on a community project meeting at your house? This soup would be excellent to offer with hot biscuits or rolls and a homey dessert like Apple Crisp.

FOR A lagniappe with the soup, you might like to try this California way. We did and found it a delicious and amusing garnish.

Buy some Canadian bacon—the kind that comes in a package and is thinly sliced—and pan-fry, oven-broil or grill according to package directions. Have on hand some extra broccoli flowerets, cooked lightly so they're tender crisp and bright green, and fold a slice of the Canadian bacon over a floweret. Fasten with food picks so these trifles may be picked up with the fingers. If you serve the soup from a large tureen placed on a chop dish or platter, the bacon-broccoli tidbits can go around the tureen.

HOW MUCH Canadian bacon will you need? We found there were 16 to 18 slices in a 6-ounce package. If you buy an extra bunch of broccoli, you'll have ample flowerets for one of these packages, and you can use the broccoli stalks for soup or salad for the family.

BROCCOLI CHOWDER

1 bunch (about 1¼ pounds) broccoli
Boiling water
Salt
1 can (1¾ ounces) dry onion soup mix
1 cup light cream
Herb or herb-and-spice seasoning
White pepper or tabasco sauce

Trim ends of broccoli stalks and remove leaves. With a swivel-blade vegetable parer, pare outer fibrous covering from broccoli stalks. Soak in cold water for about 15 minutes. Cut flowerets from stalks. Split large stalks lengthwise; cut into 1-inch pieces.

Gently boil the pieces of stalk in 4 cups boiling water with 1 teaspoon salt for 8 minutes; add the flowerets and cook 3 to 5 minutes more or until flowerets are just tender-crisp. Drain broccoli and chop fine—with a knife, a food-chopper or a blender. Reserve cooking water.

Turn 3 cups of the broccoli cooking water into a kettle with the dry onion soup mix; partly cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add the chopped broccoli, cream, seasonings to taste (including extra salt if necessary) and reheat rapidly but do not boil. Makes about 1½ quarts.

Peach Puff Cobbler Is A Delight

Biscuit mix and canned cling peaches make "Peach Puff Cobbler" one of the easiest desserts in the world to prepare. Served warm, it's especially palatable on a wintry evening. Golden canned cling peach slices give this cobbler a sunny appearance no matter what kind of storm may be brewing out-of-doors.

PEACH PUFF COBBLER

1 can (1 lb. 13 oz) cling peach slices
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup brown sugar (packed)
1 cup biscuit mix
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
⅓ cup light cream or half and half
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Cinnamon

Drain peaches, saving ½ cup syrup. In a saucepan, heat syrup, lemon juice and ½ cup brown sugar to boiling; add peaches and remove from heat. Combine biscuit mix, granulated sugar and cream to make dough. Drop by spoonfuls into buttered shallow baking dish or pan. Pour on hot peach mixture. Dot with butter and sprinkle lightly with brown sugar and cinnamon. Bake in 450-degree (very hot) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm. If desired, top with whipped cream or ice cream.

Makes 6 servings.

Molded Pineapple Salad Or Dessert

Boneless Smoked Pork Shoulder Butt
Potato Puff Snap Beans
Mango Chutney Bread Tray
Molded Pineapple Ring
Beverage

MOLDED PINEAPPLE RING

1 package (3 ounces) lemon-lime flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ cup cold water
1 can (8½ ounces) crushed pineapple

Stir together the gelatin and boiling water until gelatin is dissolved. Add cold water and undrained pineapple; mix well. Turn into a 3-cup ring mold or into 5 or 6 individual molds; chill until set. For a salad, unmold and serve on romaine or other salad greens with French dressing; as a dessert serve as is. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

He-Man Casserole Tasty Main Dish

When "He-Man Casserole" is on the menu at your house, all you need to round out the meal is a tossed green salad and chilled canned cling peaches for dessert. This main dish combines in tasty fashion ground beef, rice, tomatoes, ripe olives, celery, green pepper, onion and other zippy seasonings. Heating ripe olives accents their nut-like flavor, and their handsome appearance adds appetite appeal to countless entrees and salads.

HE-MAN CASSEROLE

1 cup ripe olives
1 lb. ground lean beef
2 tablespoons salad oil
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup sliced celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 cup rice
1 can (1 lb. 3 oz.) tomatoes
1 cup water
2 teaspoons salt
2 or 3 teaspoons chili powder
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon Worcestershire

Cut olives into large pieces. Brown beef in oil. Remove meat from pan; add onion, celery, green pepper and rice and cook and stir until browned. Add tomatoes, water, seasonings, meat and olives and bring to a boil. Pour into 2-quart casserole and cover. Bake in 325-degree (moderately slow) over 45 minutes to 1 hour. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Seasonings Add Interest On Nibbles

Corn and Peanut Nibbles
Red Apples Cookies
Beverage

CORN AND PEANUT NIBBLES

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon onion powder
½ teaspoon ground cumin
1 teaspoon chili powder
3 cups bite-size shredded corn biscuits
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup roasted unsalted peanuts

Melt the butter in a cake pan (9 by 9 by 2 inches); stir in onion powder, cumin and chili powder. Add corn biscuits and turn over gently to coat with seasonings. Toast in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 5 minutes; turn over with wide spatula and toast another 5 minutes. Remove from oven; at once sprinkle with cheese, turning as you do so. Add peanuts, mix gently and peanuts will take up seasoned butter at bottom of pan. Allow to stand in pan until cold. Makes 1 quart. Store in a tightly covered container—a wide-mouth screw-top jar is good.

Note: Pick out tiny whole corn biscuits to use omitting any broken ones or shreds.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Mrs. Solmonson Ends Cruise-Tour

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mrs. Julius K. (Doris) Solmonson of San Rafael and daughter, Ginger, 12, have returned from a Mediterranean cruise, and visits in Spain, North Africa, Italy, France, the Scandinavian countries and England. Mrs. Solmonson with Ginger visited another daughter, Mrs. Joost Van Cleff and the Van Cleffs' three-year-old son, Ronald, in Rotterdam.

In England Doris and Ginger were guests of Mrs. Heskieth Williams at her home in Kent County. Doris breeds and raises Lhasa Apsos. These rare dogs can be traced back to eight centuries in Tibet. The Lhasa Apsos was known in England many years before it was introduced in this country. Mrs. Williams is president of the Lhasa Apsos Club of England and Doris hoped to get some more of the famed Tibetan dogs from information supplied by the Englishwoman. But none could be found. Then Doris settled for three Maltese puppies which were flown to her from London via Pan American. The Maltese trio was selected from the famous Gissing Kennel in London. The puppies have been named, Shireen, Debra and Sorcerer.

Doris served on the board of directors of the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club of Marin County which recently met at the Civic Center. Plans were made for a luncheon for members of the club and others interested in pure-bred dogs. Also in the making are arrangements for the club's annual dog show to be held in October at Rickey's Rancho Rafael. The show always attracts visitors from all parts of the state.

VIRGINIA ANAWALT, interior decorator, will be the guest speaker at tomorrow night's meeting of the Mills College Alumnae of Marin at 8 o'clock in the Belvedere home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rogers.

Miss Anawalt, makes her home in Mill Valley and has her own interior design studio in San Francisco. Last year she executed the interiors of the Sunset Magazine "Discovery House." Much of the furniture for this house she designed and had custom made.

Here in Marin County she has worked on a number of houses designed by Charles Warren Callister and Associates including the Duncan house featured in an article in the February 1962 issue of House Beautiful.

LEAVING DEL MAR Estates, Tiburon, for a new home in Lafayette, are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Friburg and their three children, Erna, who is employed in San Francisco, Kristy, a senior at Redwood High School, who will commute to school until her graduation, and Stan, a freshman at Redwood High.

The Friburgs have sold their Tiburon home to Mr. and Mrs. Dickson Pratt of Belvedere, who have two children, Suzanne and Dickson Jr. The Pratts rented in Belvedere for two months before deciding to make this area their permanent home. They are originally from Hawaii, and Mr. Pratt is with the Dillingham Corp.

FLOWERS FOR THE NEW MEMBER

Primrose Tea To Be March 27

Following a long tradition, the Inverness Garden Club will again present its spring Primrose Tea, this year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Forster of Silver Hills overlooking Tomales Bay.

For the Primrose Tea, which was started in the 1930s to give the public a view of the primroses which were developed by the late Hugh Logan, the women will again wear their famous fresh flower-bedecked chapeaux. And the usual array of home made breads will be offered at the March 27 event.

Mrs. Raymond Rodgers of Point Reyes Station, chairman, has announced that tea hours are from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Montague Barton is decorations chairman, assisted by Mrs. Richard Gimbel, who has studied flower arrangement in Japan.

Mrs. R. L. Griffith is heading the committee for the table of homemade breads.

Mrs. William Trayer will be in charge of the primroses for the occasion, and the host is the traffic chairman for the day.

The Inverness Garden Club has established the Jesse Craig Lovell Scholarship Fund, which helps Tomales High School graduates to pursue higher education.

Awareness Group Meets Tonight

Mrs. Edmond Gross, founder-leader of Mill Valley's Awareness Group, announces the next two meetings will be held at 8 p.m. at the golf clubhouse so that husbands may attend.

Both tonight's meeting and the March 6 one will be on the topic "Bodega Bay Atomic Reactor." David Pesonen will speak against the proposal tonight. Hal Stroube will speak for it on March 6.

PARIS SCENE: Geisha Sleeve, Reptile Look

PARIS (AP)—Paris spring and summer styles are chic, sharp and crisp for daytime and glamorous as the shadows lengthen.

The new Paris modes give a new feeling of security. They are young, feminine, flattering and full of news.

Biggest spring feature is the sleeve story. They're long, tight and bracelet-length for daytime, or draped in a side cowl derived from the kimono for any hour.

COME EVENING, they are jeweled or scattered with re-embroidery and jewelled raised organdy florals.

Cape-sleeved coats appear Chez Heim. The set-in suit sleeve with a slight puff make headlines at Dior; floor length Japanese geisha girl sleeves stop traffic at Ricci.

There is the big suit news, too. Pointed cape shawls are an intrinsic part of the suit jacket and of every length. The idea is developed for later in the day, in dark crepes and prints, too.

THE JUMPER dress comes into its own, emerging after years of neglect. Yves does them in prints and plain, varying his theme. Large tie silk twill patterns are in his spring picture, shown on foulard fabric. They're seen at other houses, too, and will be the big thing in Paris, come sunshine.

TO COMPENSATE covered kneecaps, some designers have come up with catchy ideas. Nina Ricci slashes a draped evening gown to the thigh. Pierre Cardin dresses a bare back with a black rose and calls it "cache-delices." One neckline is slit open to the waist and features the black bra.

BY AND LARGE, Paris designers prefer to suggest rather than stress. They say "the obvious has become too easy."

The amount of jewelled embroidery is surprising for a spring season. Designers are thinking in Renaissance terms as far as decor is concerned. Lanvin's evening gowns have tight jeweled torsos. Jeweled sleeves are everywhere.

THOSE WHO prefer the reptile look, say it with liquid sequins as Coco Chanel does, in gold, silver, moonlight, and midnight blue. Speaking of serpents, Desses has real live-looking gold ones, borrowed from Clytemnestra's tomb. They spiral around a vestal chiffon, or hold up shoulder straps of a summer evening gown. Esterel shows a silver snakeskin evening blazer and as accessories go, it's chic.

Paris Scene: Excitement

For every hour Paris likes the Norman peasant shirt. It can be of any length and comes in any new spring fabric. Sometimes it's just the top of a two-piece middy. Sometimes it's an overblouse and bloused.

IT COMES to town in spring wools, shantung, pique, or floral print. It goes stepping in organza or dark chiffon prints, or crepe featuring a single abstraction. And for evening it's glamorized in lace, braided or with a raised floral pattern, faithfully following the daytime silhouette.

Many soft ensembles have their own coats. These donned backwards recall a French school-child's apron. They're shown for day and evening.

TIME WAS when the rustle of taffeta warned monsieur that madame was ready to go to dinner. Today she tinkles like a crystal chandelier or floats in shimmering, like an Oriental idol, or whirls in colorful gypsy chiffon skirts. Madame Gres' "nomad" gowns feature biblical drapery.

COSTUME jewelry has become more individual. Teamed to fabrics and style, it breaks away from classic pieces. Great hunks of jewels blend Tyrolean cut stones, enamels, gold chains and set off a strategic point the designer wishes to stress. Ruff necklets, baubles, cascades and "mobiles" with porcelain and enamel. launched to blend with prints, are liked by Dior.

A BIG DAY FOR FASHION

With more than 150 members and guests present, yesterday's fashion luncheon at the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour was one of the best attended events held recently in Hammond Hall. Showing a hip-skimmer linen dress is Mrs. Charles R. Graff, director of the show and member of Episcopal Churchwomen which sponsored the affair. Admiring the model and dress, are Mesdames Vern Brown and Lawrence Pritchard. Mrs. Lloyd Clarke was chairman and Mesdames Robert Finnie and Richard Zimmerman, luncheon chairmen. Library Topic For Council Tomorrow

"Children in the Library" will be the subject for the meeting of the Marin Chapter of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Marin Catholic High School.

Mrs. Margaret Todd, librarian for the San Jose Elementary School District will be the speaker. Mrs. Todd, who has been librarian in the Seattle Public Library and at Oregon State College as well as in other California school districts, is librarian for the Loma Verde, Rafael Meadows, Pacheco and Hamilton Field elementary schools and the San Jose Junior High School.

The program was arranged in recognition of Catholic Book Month by Mrs. John Riordan of Santa Venetia.

Hostessing will be the Marin Catholic Women's Club with Mrs. G. Stanley Lawrence as chairman and the Dominican Convent and College Alumnae with Mrs. Walter Coyne and Mrs. Kenneth Larkin as co-chairmen.

Mrs. John Erkelens Cruising Club Head

Mrs. John M. Erkelens of Sausalito, or Sue, as she is better known to friends, is the new president of the Sausalito Cruising Club Auxiliary.

Not only she, but her entire family consisting of her husband and son Bill and daughter, Mrs. Al Pickrel of San Rafael, have been cruising enthusiasts for 17 years.

THE ERKELENS, who have lived in Sausalito since 1951, have owned various kinds of boats from large ones to their present Riva, a 21-foot Italian speedboat.

"There are only a few like it in the United States," said Mrs. Erkelens, "so that it's easy to spot on the water."

Practically every leisure moment the Erkelens can spare from their business—a market in San Francisco—which they own and operate, is spent cruising, mostly in the Delta country.

Sue Erkelens is a charter member of the auxiliary, which was organized about a year after the club itself as a result of wives serving coffee to their husbands at meetings. She served one year as treasurer.

SINCE THEN auxiliary members have been very busy working on a new clubhouse, a cream colored floating barge docked at the foot of Napa and Bridgeway Streets in Sausalito. The grand opening was held last March.

"We're working now on plans for the opening of the yachting season, which will probably be either on the last Sunday in April or first in May," Mrs. Erkelens said. "We expect to feed about 300 people that day."

A NATIVE OF San Francisco and graduate of Balboa High School there, the new president has been a member for eight years of Sausalito's Sea Point Parlor 196, Native Daughters of the Golden West. She served as third vice president one year and trustee another year. When the children were younger she was active as a Girl Scout leader and Cub Scout den mother.

Other new officers of the Sausalito Cruising Club are Mesdames Lewis A. Deppman, vice president; E. J. Moody, secretary; and Robert Ellis, treasurer.

Mrs. William Blair Named Sorority State Day Head

Mrs. William Blair of Fairfax will be in charge of Delta Zeta State Day to be held Saturday at the Mu chapter house at the University of California.

Some 200 members are expected to attend from the University of California and the state colleges of San Jose, Fresno, Sacramento and Humboldt.

The workshop for province directors will start with a coffee hour and registration from 9 to 10 a.m. At the luncheon in the student union building which will follow the morning conference, awards will be made, including the one for the outstanding Delta Zeta of Northern California.

In the afternoon three-minute talks will be given on the theme "College Collage." One of these will be presented by Mrs. Guy H. Gale of Sleepy Hollow, a past national president of the sorority. She will also present the Marin Alumnae Chapter report.

Mrs. Blair is the Marin Alumnae Chapter's candidate for outstanding Delta Zeta of Northern California.

Mrs. Blair organized the chapter, served as its president for two years and has been a collegiate province director since 1957. She is presently recording secretary of Friends of Arequipa, having served previously as president and grand chairman.

She is a past president of the Fairfax Sunny Hills Guild and has been its Grape Festival chairman many times. She has also been active in politics and church work and as a den mother.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

The Parents Easily Can Help Children Become Delinquent

Want to raise a family of delinquents? I hope not. But here are some ways to do it:

Put yourself on your children's level. Let them call you by your first name—even hit or kick you when they feel like it. Never give orders. Then they'll be sure to make many serious mistakes.

Always take their side in controversies. If they get into trouble at school, tell them it is the teachers' fault. If they have a fight with a boy in the neighborhood, insist that the other kid is to blame. Give them the idea that everything they do is perfect, but that the world doesn't appreciate them.

Let them shirk their jobs at home. Do the work yourself instead. Let them enjoy many privileges without corresponding responsibilities. Ignore their homework. Tell their their teachers are stupid or they wouldn't give the assignment anyway.

Have quarrels with your spouse in front of the children. Let them take sides in the argument. Be sure to disagree on rules for their conduct so they can play one parent off against the other. Change your rules frequently. Don't let them have the security of knowing what is expected. Keep them confused about the differences between right and wrong.

Be "modern" in your sex attitudes. Tell them that you know they'll enjoy necking and petting. Look the other way when you see them doing it. Discuss Kinsey's theories, and the ideas of Ellis and Kronhausen in front of them. Let them pour over the smut magazines which are now sold openly. Buy them "Lady Chatterley's Lover," and "Tropic of Cancer." You'll create sex problems early that way.

I know several families in which each one of these errors is being made. I hope the mistakes are scarce as hens' teeth in your home. Are they?

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I thought children were upset by moving. Our son is only two. We moved from Delaware to Florida. It didn't seem to bother him a bit. Is something wrong?"

Mrs. N. J.

(A) No, nothing is wrong. Most two-year-olds can move without stress. However many older children cannot.

Adelphian Rummage Sale Begins Friday

The annual rummage sale sponsored by the Adelphian Women's Organization of the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church will be held at 622 Fourth Street, San Rafael on Friday from 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Nurses Suggest Ways To Keep Your Sick Children Amused

—Make homemade clay for children's play by mixing one cup of flour, one cup of salt and one tablespoon of powdered alum. Add one cup of water to make the mixture jell. To make it live in color add some food coloring. There's no reason sick children at home shouldn't love the mashy mixture as much as sick children in the pediatric ward of a hospital. It does not stain bedclothes or get into fingernails.

"When a child tires of keeping an arm in a sling, draw a crayon face on an old light-colored sock and put it on the injured arm. She then can sit and rock the "dollie" in the sling.

An RX for housekeeping chores for a sick person comes from nurse Mary C. Keaney, of North Quincy, Mass. Her suggestion:

—A safe and practical way to cut hair away from encompassing wounds, eyelashes and so on is first to apply a little sterile ointment to the scissors' blade. As hair is clipped it clings to the ointment.

—Pop bottle and straws help to force fluids into youngsters. She marks the ounces on the bottle with strips of adhesive tape, measuring the amount first with water and a medicine glass. A tapered salad dressing bottle is fine, too, she said. (UPI)

Gracetta Bonomolo Bride In San Francisco Ceremony

Gracetta Patricia Bonomolo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonomolo of San Rafael, became the bride of Don E. Bullard in a Sunday afternoon ceremony at Ss. Peter and Paul Church in San Francisco.

The bride recited vows in a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle with cathedral length train. Her matron of honor was Mrs. Grace Ann Sorich and the other attendants were Linda D'Ari, Rosaria Pucci and Jonnie Banks. They wore gold slipper satin sheath dresses with overskirts.

Ray Parkin was the best man for the bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Bullard of South San Francisco, and escorting guests to seats were Tom Lange, John Bianchi, Frank Bonomolo and Tip Bonomolo.

The couple will reside in Colma.

Toastmistress Club To Hold Speech Contest

The winner of the contest will be entered in competition with winners of nine other Bay Area Toastmistress Club at the Council Conference in April.

Marin Branch AAUW Group To Attend Area Workshop

Eighteen members of Marin branch, American Assn. of University Women, plan to attend the AAUW state division northern area workshop in Santa Rosa this weekend.

Some will arrive Friday evening and will hear Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawks, retiring national president of AAUW, speak at a dinner meeting at the Flamingo Hotel. Dr. Hawks will discuss proposed changes in the program structure and policies of AAUW.

These include Mesdames William R. Eastman Jr., branch president; William D. Epstein, speaker on public relations panel; Robert Milmoe and Kenneth Moynihan, members of state committees; Murray Baxter, V. W. Jones, and J. C. Stovall.

Arriving in Santa Rosa Saturday morning in time to attend round table sessions at Santa Rosa Junior College will be the Mesdames Guy Chetelat, John S. Detweiler, Howard Friesen, William Fusselman, Robin Galloway, R. J. Houston, Americo Oberto, Samuel Smickler, Fred D. Stribling, and Albert Williams and Miss Katherine M. Sweeney.

WHAT DO DOCTORS RECOMMEND the Most For TENSE, NERVOUS HEADACHES?

ANACIN® contains the pain reliever doctors recommend most for headaches. In minutes—pain goes, so does its tension, mental fatigue and depression.

New York, N.Y. Medical reports confirm that tense, nervous headaches are by far the most common kind. They are caused by tension that presses on the nerves. But fortunately, one can get remarkable relief in minutes with this special tablet—Anacin.

Anacin not only relieves the pain, but also relaxes its tension and releases painful pressure on nerves—bringing you fast 'all-over' relief.

Anacin Tablets are so effective because they are like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever doctors recommend the most plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. And Anacin has such a gentle action. Doesn't leave you depressed or 'let down'.

This big difference in Anacin makes the big difference in the way you feel. Always take Anacin for fast 'all-over' pain relief.

MRS. MILLS WED FRIDAY IN MISSION

Mrs. Roy Mills and George Elliott Purser, both of Mill Valley, were married Friday afternoon at the Mission Santa Ynez in the Santa Ynez Valley.

Following their marriage they left on a trip through the south lands and on their return will be at home to friends at 90 Locust Ave., Mill Valley.

The new Mrs. Purser is a fourth generation Californian, born in Mill Valley, and well known as a membere of a pioneer family. Her great-grandfather was John Reed, who built the Old Mill from which Mill Valley took its name. Her daughter is Helene Mills of Mill Valley.

Mr. Purser is a civil engineer who spent a great many years in Alaska before coming to Mill Valley, where he has lived for the past 11 years.

Marin Farm Bureau Once Again Tips In State Contest

Just two years ago this week, we used this space to praise the Marin County Farm Bureau and one of its most active members, Alfred J. Bianchi of Point Reyes. Bianchi had just won the state rancher of the year title. The Farm Bureau had won a trophy for being the first of 53 county bureaus to reach its membership quota.

Last weekend, at its annual convention, the membership trophy stood again in front of the chairman, Donald McIsaacs. It had been there last year too.

Thus for the first time in the history of the California Farm Bureau, the trophy has been retired from competition. It became the permanent possession of the Marin bureau.

No one had even come close to getting it three times in a row before. But once again this year the Marin organization exceeded its quota of 355 members before any other county in the state could exceed its quota. That's pretty hard when memberships go at $20 each.

We who are so closely connected with San Francisco, who are oriented toward commuters, business, industry, and travel, sometimes forget that agriculture is an active and major industry in Marin.

But the Farm Bureau members don't. They are the ones who are keeping it active.

We congratulate them on their achievement in retiring the membership trophy. And we wish them well in their endeavors in the year ahead.

DOG UNCOVERS MARIJUANA

"When a man bites a dog, that's news," so the saying goes. When a dog turns up its nose at 10 pounds of tempting frankfurters in preference to marijuana, that's also news!

Duke, the dog involved, poked his nose into into a carton in a refrigerator of a St. Louis restaurant, pawed aside the tasty franks that were on top, and pulled out 8 packages containing marijuana. Duke happens to be the "ace marijuana sniffer" of the St. Louis police department.

According to police, the frankfurters were probably placed on top of the narcotics in the hope that Duke would be tempted to sniff no further.

Humans can certainly take a lesson from this dog's dogged devotion to duty and refusal to be led astray.

Form the habit of facing your responsibilities, of finishing what you begin and of doing it conscientiously and to the best of your ability. Failing to complete projects or to shrug off responsibility is a sign of weakness. Pray for strength of purpose and the grace of perseverance.

"The man who is slack in his work is own brother to the man who is destructive." (Proverbs 18:9)

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

About 90 Per Cent Of Tax Payers Earn $6,000 Or Less Each Year

About 90 per cent of U. S. income tax payers earn $6,000 or less each year.

The American diet now includes 86 pounds of beef and four and one-half pounds of potato chips per person annually.

Household hint: With spring in sight, now is the time to plan to have your furnace checked. One of every 10 home fires begins in a defective heating unit.

Here's another peril faced by the expense account aristocracy: A husband whose career was aided by his wife's social drinking cannot avoid paying for her support if she overdoes it and becomes a lush.

Sweet tooth: America now has 500,000 persons who keep bees for fun or profit. Last year their unpaid little slaves buzzed home to hive with a crop of nearly 275 million pounds of honey.

Our quotable notables: "Men have a much better time of it than women; for one thing, they marry later; for another thing, they die earlier."—H. L. Mencken.

EVERY BLESSING brings a problem. Example: The United States has about two-thirds of the world's motor vehicles — but only about one-sixteenth of the world's land space in which to park them.

Those good old days: At the turn of the century bathrooms were so scarce that families that had them often rented them to residents of nearby boarding houses. The going rate was 27 cents a bath, including soap and towels.

WINTRY PARTINGS: The divorce rate usually rises sharply during January and February. The reason: many unhappy couples can't bring themselves to a divorce during the peace of Christmas time. But love goes up the chimney with Santa Claus, and they head for lawyers.

It was Alphonse Karr, French novelist, who observed: "Some people are always grumbling because roses have thorns; I am thankful that thorns have roses."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Fairfax experienced its worst wave of burglaries with six business houses entered in a single night, loss aggregating $1,000. At the time the Fairfax Theater marque advertised "Everything I Have Is Yours."

Due to lack of state funds, Marin County was advised that it was to operate and maintain Stinson Beach State Park.

20 YEARS AGO

The former Albert store at Fourth and B Streets, San Rafael, was leased to the Army as a warehouse. Seven parking spaces in front were closed by police against civilian use.

After long delay the Marin Housing Authority received priorities for materials and started preparations for an Alto trailer court to handle 250 units.

Two Fort Cronkhite soldiers struck three horses with their automobile as they drove on the Bear Valley Road. One animal had to be shot.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Bridge Directors Not Responsive

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Re your headline story tonight on 40¢ commuting service to San Francisco. Golden Gate Bridge Director Murphy's statement has raised my blood pressure. This is the sort of thinking that is all right for a retired resident of Marin or someone who lives beyond the commuting zone, but it utterly disregards the realities of what is happening to Marin County.

It is ridiculous and tragic that someone in a responsible position, such as Mr. Murphy's sees Marin's problems so narrowly.

I wonder what Mr. Murphy thinks has made Marin's growth in the past 25 years possible? Obviously it was the bridge. Now that the one way for those who live in Marin to reach San Francisco is choked during rush hours, how much more growth does Mr. Murphy expect is possible unless a way is found to get people out of their cars and into some other, less space consuming way to get to their jobs in the city?

Since the residents of the Tiburon Peninsula, with the assistance of those of Russian Hill in San Francisco, managed to kill even the possibility of a second crossing for the next 10 to 15 years, it is apparent to any Marin resident willing to look beyond the end of his nose that the county can continue to grow only if the Golden Gate Bridge is used to its maximum capacity. It is equally apparent that, so long as the use of the bridge by private automobiles is encouraged during rush hours, its maximum capacity has already been reached.

Marin is a lovely place to live and apartments are abuilding all over, particularly in those areas close to San Francisco. As the traffic situation on the bridge during rush hours gets more impossible, sooner or later something will have to be done to provide transportation for people rather than automobiles during those hours.

Perhaps I am picking too hard on Mr. Murphy. Certainly the evidence to the commuter is that he only reflects the narrow attitude of the whole Board of Directors on how the bridge should be run. In my opinion, this attitude can be capitalized as, "make it as cheap as possible for the private car commuter to use the bridge."

This might be all right if there were ample capacity for such use and even then, I question it. But in view of the realities of the situation, it is sheer blindness.

I suggest that Mr. Murphy and his associates try driving to the toll gates from Marin between 7 and 9 a.m. every day next week and compare their time with what they can make the trip in at other times of the day. Then I suggest they consider what they will do about this situation a year or two from now, when all of those new apartments have commuter tenants.

And I further suggest they get going on their solutions in a hurry. By the time they actually make up their minds that something has to be done, it will be long past time as it was with the four lane one way operation that has been so successful and was so long postponed.

I don't know how the bridge directors got their jobs, but it's apparent that they are not responsive to the needs of the public. Until they become so, the commuting residents of Marin will continue to suffer. And the commuting residents are the bulk of southern Marin. It's time for a radical change in the performance and attitude of the bridge directors.

Park Plan Hurt Property Values

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The attached letter will be of public interest:
Board of Supervisors
Marin County
San Rafael

My name is David McDougall. I own property and live on Boardwalk No. 1 in Larkspur. I feel that the recent statement by the Parks and Recreation Commission with regard to a park in this area involving my home has done me a direct financial injury. I ask that you take steps to correct this injustice.

My case is as follows: For personal reasons I wish to sell my home on Boardwalk No. 1 and have placed it on the market. With the proposal of the Parks and Recreation as to a park in this area, it immediately became impossible to sell my home except at a greatly depressed value.

The proposal for a park as made by the Parks and Recreation Commission is most ill conceived. The Larkspur City Council has termed the proposal "quixotic" and is on record with you as opposed to the plan.

In your own discussions at your last meeting doubts were expressed as to the feasibility of the proposal.

I ask that you restore public confidence and property values in this area by making a public statement that you will not approve a park in this area requiring the condemnation of homes.

Let's Mobilize To Fight Poison Oak

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Regarding the Marin hikers which we commuters encountered on Monday morning:

Couldn't help reflecting if all that energy couldn't be channeled into what is a real concern to us here in Marin County—some civic attack on poison oak. This pesty plant abounds in the parks, Mt. Tamalpais and along roadways and on our homesites.

Operation Poison Oak — can't we get some concerted plan to have the Scouts, hikers, and civic clubs get together and rid the county of it?

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

An Open Letter To San Quentin News Columnist Don Nivens

Dear Don Nivens:

I note from your Bastile By the Bay column in the San Quentin News that you think a recent column of mine made you out "a counterfeit cynic" and exposed you as a fraud.

Nobody bottled up at San Q in springtime deserves anything like that, so let me apologize in haste.

Your column sometimes shows that you are a pretty good card-carrying cynic part of the time. But it also sometimes shows that you have a vein of honest sentiment. Of this nobody need be ashamed.

MY SLANT ON the situation is that both these qualities belong in the whole man, and that the mature persons is one who has learned to balance them off. From evidence of your column, you qualify and here's my hand.

You ought to get a chuckle out of Gov. Pat Brown's recent remark that the Caryl Chessman affair put a stop to any notions he'd had about becoming President.

My thought on that one is your's gratis, namely "Let it now not be said that Chessman lived and died in vain."

WHICH IS MORE than they'll ever be saying about Honorary San Quentin Inmate Randall Gould, unless perhaps I smoke myself to death as a means of helping out on California state tax receipts.

By the way, you don't have a tax-free PX at San Q, do you?

And if so, where do Honorary Inmates stand on being allowed to patronize it?

The fact is that though I smoke anything that will hold still, cigarettes with the big California tax are the least of my vices in that respect.

A couple of the old coffin nails with my breakfast coffee and I'm through for the day in such category. From then on I smoke a pipe except for maybe a good cigar after lunch, and certainly a good cigar after dinner.

KEEP IT DARK, for my tactics may not be legal. But every fall I drive up to Salt Spring Island, B. C., and on the way back while passing through the state of Oregon, I pick up as many cartons of cigarettes as the car will hold.

It isn't a very big car. But then, I don't smoke many cigarettes per year.

You see I have qualifications for changing my Honorary status to Full-Fledged inmate, any time there's a job vacancy on the San Quentin News.

When it comes to that state withholding tax, I have a good idea for beating that one, too.

All I have to do is quit or get fired. So far it's neck and neck between the boss and me.

THIS COULD GET to be something pretty big. Maybe I'm just a dreamer, but it seems to me I am really loaded with ideas.

So in case you get to needing an assistant columnist, bear me in mind. I assume you and your pals must have worked out ways to lick the state taxes and if I join up regular, I expect to be cut in.

And anyhow, over at San Q the state feeds you. Everywhere else in Marin County it's the other way around.

Honorary Inmate Randall

U.S. Doesn't Have Much To Object About In UN Aid To Cuba Farmers

WASHINGTON — It seems that a misunderstanding of the function of the United Nations is causing some in Washington to tear their hair because the UN is giving a little technical assistance to help the Cuban people improve their agriculture.

The UN does not belong to the United States or to the Soviet Union or to any of the big powers. However feeble and uncertain, it belongs to its 110 members. Its main objectives are to keep a divided world as much at peace as possible and to help impoverished people, regardless of ideology, acquire some hope for the future.

THE PRACTICAL question is whether the UN in its technical assistance and resource research aid is doing a substantially useful and needed and worthwhile job.

Is the UN Special Fund, which provides pre-investment assistance to determine how countries can help themselves and whether their planned economic-levelopment projects are sound, helping or harming the United States?

The answer is that the work of the UN Special Fund is parallel with the objectives of the U. S. in nearly every part of the world—and buttresses our own economic aid programs. The facts are these: the UN is carrying out 286 technical assistance projects and the United States has found 284 of them compatible with U. S. national interest.

IS THE UN providing technical assistance to a lot of countries that are hostile to the United States?

The answer is that the UN provides such assistance to 92 different countries and in 90 of them the United States is itself providing economic aid. Only in the cases of Ceylon and Cuba has the U. S. objected to the action taken by the 18-nation council which operates the Special Fund and on which both the U. S. and the U.S.S.R. are represented.

It operates on a modest scale. The total expenditure required for its 286 projects is $589 million. The recipient countries provide $342 million; the UN, $257 million. The U. S. share is $99 million, approximately 17 per cent of the total.

THE PURPOSE of the Cuban project, to which the Castro government would contribute more than half the cost, is to improve Cuban agriculture through crop diversification. It is essentially a research activity covering a period of five years. It would be at least 10 years before Cuban agriculture could expect any substantial benefit.

Expenditures during its first phase would be under $100,000 and if the Cubans do not do their share, there is an early cut-off to the whole thing.

I would think we have little reason for complaint.

BENNETT CERF

Morey Amsterdam tells about the first time two pinochle addicts attempted a round of golf. Mr. L. shot the first hole in 47, nosing out Mr. G. by two strokes. As they approached the second tee, Mr. L. mused, "You know something, Mac, this golf has interesting possibilities. What do you say we play for a nickel a hundred?"

As she prepared to climb aboard the bus, a man behind her volunteered a helping hand. The old lady declined with a sad smile. "I'd best manage alone," she explained. "If I get help today—I'll want it tomorrow."

James Michener was reminiscing about the fabulous ovation given to "South Pacific," based on his Pulitzer Prize winning book, on its opening night. He said, "I went to bed the night the show opened a nobody, and awoke the next morning to find Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza immortal!"

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bridge Philosopher Proves That Simple Play Can Be Most Difficult

"Nothing is so difficult as simplicity," said the club Philosopher. We all hooted at him, of course, because he is full of these profound observations and spends half his time proving that life is like a cup of tea.

But this time he had a bridge hand to prove his point.

Opening lead — ♡ K

West opened the king of hearts, and South won with the ace. South ruffed a heart in dummy and looked around for new worlds to conquer.

IF SO . . .

He started the diamonds, probably hoping that the missing five diamonds would break 2½ — 2½. If so, perhaps, he would be able to discard half a card on dummy's third diamond.

There was no such luck, of course, since West ruffed the second diamond.

West then cashed two heart tricks and eventually got his two black aces. South was down two.

MAKE CONTRACT

"There was a simple play to make the contract," our Philosopher pointed out. "It was so simple that the poor fellow never thought of it."

South must refuse the first trick even though he has the ace of hearts opposite dummy's singleton.

LEADS TRUMPS

If West leads trumps, South can knock out the ace of trumps, win the ace of hearts, draw the rest of the trumps and take safe discards on the diamonds.

West's best chance is to lead another heart at the second trick. South ruffs in dummy and leads a club to the queen. West takes the ace of clubs and forces out the ace of hearts.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 27, the 58th day of 1963 with 307 to follow.

The moon is approaching first quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Mars. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1860, Abraham Lincoln made his first speech in the East, and spoke on slavery.

In 1932, scientists were agog over the announcement that a British scientist discovered the neutron.

A thought for the day—Abraham Lincoln said: "While the people retain their virtue and vigilance, no administration, by any extreme of wickedness or folly, can very seriously injure the government in the short space of four years."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Monday the 25th day of March, 1963, at 11 A.M., in San Rafael, California, on the steps of the main entrance of the Marin County Courthouse, CASSIDY MORTGAGE COMPANY, a California corporation, as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, all its right, title and interest acquired by or through the deed of trust hereinafter described, in and to the following described real property, situated in the County of Marin, State of California.

PARCEL ONE:

BEGINNING at a point on the Southwesterly line of that certain parcel of land conveyed by John J. Connell to Vernon A. Paris, et al, by Deed recorded November 3, 1954, in Liber 699 of Official Records, at Page 162, Marin County Records, distant thereon North 62° 45' West 55 feet from the Southeasterly corner of said parcel; running thence from said point of beginning along said Southwesterly line North 62° 45' West 177.54 feet to the Southwesterly corner thereof; running thence along the Northwesterly line of the parcel so conveyed to Paris, et al, North 7° 15' East 266.60 feet to the Northwesterly corner thereof; running thence along the center line of a 40 foot roadway easement South 58° 41' East 13.86 feet; thence on a curve to the left whose radius is 200 feet a distance of 85.06 feet; thence South 83° 03' East 84 feet; thence leaving said last named line and running South 34° 22' West 128 feet and running thence Southeasterly in a direct line to the point of beginning.

PARCEL TWO:

A Right of Way for road purposes over and across an existing road 40 feet wide, leading from the Northeasterly corner of the above described Parcel One to the County Road.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligation secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by JOSEPH TRAVIS and CHRISTINE A. TRAVIS, his wife, to CASSIDY MORTGAGE COMPANY, a California corporation as trustee, for the benefit and security of PETER J. KARBER, dated August 13, 1962, and recorded August 17, 1962, in Liber 1602 of Official Records, at Page 438, in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California. The beneficial interest in said deed of trust has been assigned to VIOLET LEE, dated December 3, 1962, and recorded on December 13, 1962, Book 1640, Page 51, of Official Records, Serial No. 44590, in the office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California.

Notice of breach of said obligation and election to sell said real property was recorded in the office of said County Recorder on November 23 1962. This notice is given in compliance with the demand of the beneficiary this day made

The Best Of Marin
Many custom features add to the enjoyment of this new rustic home. In the living room, a unique free standing stone fireplace and wide windows to take advantage of the marin view; sliding glass doors to a private deck from the separate dining room. Satin finished ash paneling and cabinets in the color coordinated G.E. kitchen. 3 lovely bedrooms and 2 baths . . . all in a central hall plan. Plenty of closets and a large storage area in rear of oversize 2-car garage. Designed for solid comfort and easy maintenance. No need to spend all your leisure hours gardening, either. It's a real buy at the price. See it today.
$39,750
Custom built for its transferred owner less than 2 years ago, this elegant home was designed for comfort, convenience and enjoyment of Marin's traditional indoor-outdoor living. Situated on a prominent corner lot in one of the nicest sections of Greenbrae, it offers a sweeping view that includes Mt. Tamalpais and wooded hills. All on one level, including garage are 3 spacious bedrooms, 2 baths; a cheerful living room with built-in bookcases around the fireplace of used brick. From the dining area and bedrooms, it is only one step to the large covered patio. Fully landscaped. Practically new drapes included. We'll be proud to show you this immaculate property.

LOTS
Now is the time to buy. Choice in lots are scarce and prices are climbing. Don't delay, buy now—build when you are ready.
$8,950—74x114 ft. view location—high on a hill. Easy side slope and already graded for a large basement, 3 bedrooms, 2 bath home. Plans for which are available.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin Couple Can Look With Relish On Their Santa Venetia Cannery

Apparently off to a good start is Sweet Pepperell, Inc., a small cannery at 294 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia. It manafactures just one product, a sweet-sour relish that's bright red and has a taste only a woman could produce.

The woman in this case is Mrs. Patricia Martz. She has been making "Sweet Pepperell" for some time and finally decided to let others besides her friends enjoy it. Ergo Mrs. Martz and husband Phillip started producing on a large scale and are now selling to the wholesale houses and restaurants. Martz, a Sausalito barber, was a jewelry designer for several years and has contributed a flashy label for the bottle.

SCHMITZ

The business may have another principal shortly, Mrs. Norma Johnson, a neighbor of the Martzes. Mesdames Martz and Johnson are from Wisconsin which has turned out any number of good cooks, so if they put their heads together they should be able to come up with other good sellers.

HOMES are still popular in spite of the apartment trend. Seabreeze Construction reported a tremendous turnout to look at its Loma Verde homes last weekend, about 15,000 visitors. But more impressive, the company has taken orders for houses totaling more than $900,000, and expects to sell all 61 dwellings in the first unit within a few days. Construction on the first unit is expected to be completed in about three months.

RICHARD T. SCHMITZ of San Rafael has been promoted to local manager of Bekins Van and Storage Co. He joined Bekins in 1957 and served in Pasadena and San Bernardino until last October. After a management training course he was assigned to San Rafael.

CHARLES E. BANCROFT of Tiburon, Pacific Coast sales manager for the Kemper Insurance Group fire division, has been elected assistant vice president of three Kemper companies. They are Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty, American Manufacturers' Mutual Insurance and American Motorists' Insurance. He started with Kemper as production manager in 1960.

BANCROFT

FRED A. BANDUCCI, San Rafael insurance agent and broker, was called upon to address the Insurance Credit Managers Assn. of San Francisco yesterday. His topic was "A producer's Ideas on Credit Procedures within the Company."

MOTORCRAFT. Bud Oden of Marin Triumph, San Rafael, reports that Fiat leads in car registration in the six Common Market countries, Belgium Holland, Luxembourg, France, West Germany and Italy . . . Plymouth is making a few cars available this year with aluminum components for weight reduction: fenders, hood with air scoop, etc. Weight is reduced about 150 pounds.

On Honor Roll

Susan Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh G. Young of 2300 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, has been placed on the freshman honor roll of straight "A" grade students at Linfield College, McMinnville, Ore.

UNDERSEA RESEARCH VEHICLE

This is an artist's conception of a new two-man undersea research vehicle to be constructed for the Navy. The craft will be 20 feet long, have a speed of six knots, an endurance of 24 hours, a range of 30 miles and will be capable of depths of 6,000 feet. A 12-foot, two-man sub is now operating in San Francisco Bay out of the Tiburon Marine Laboratory. (UPI photo)

Going To Write A Letter? Here's How

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A friend has escaped injury in a railroad accident and you wish to congratulate him.

You are disturbed about the loss of a borrowed umbrella and that cornet player who keeps you awake nights.

These problems were solved easily by Grandpa, who simply consulted the Dick Common Sense Letter Writer, published in the 1880s.

"My Dear Mr. Alden:

I see that your name occurs in the list of those passengers who escaped, uninjured at the terrible accident and I feel I must send you my hearty congratulations at having been saved from the appalling danger that either proved fatal or was the cause of such frightful suffering to so many of your fellow travelers."

Poor Jane Stanhope! She was so unhappy because she lost a borrowed umbrella. Drying her tears, Jane wrote:

"My Dear Mr. Burt:

I can fancy how vexed and annoyed you will feel when I tell you that I have lost the umbrella you so kindly lent me last Thursday. During the few moments I was engaged at Macy's, I placed it beside me and when I turned away — it was gone."

"Dear Madam:

You doubtless are aware that some member of your household is learning to play the cornet. He pursues his excruciating studies until late hours of the night and keeps our children in uproarious wakefulness, rendering our nights miserable beyond endurance."

Mrs. Burns replied with restraint. Her son was preparing for admission into the Musical Protective Union and he could practice only in the evening.

I am sorry your over-sensitiveness leads you to deem it an annoyance," she wrote Carson, "but at present I cannot see how we can alter matters."

"Your entire neglect of the matter referred to my letter of the 1st inst., has resulted exactly as was to have been expected," the letter said. "The leakage of my roof has increased to such an extent that, during the severe rain-fall of the past three days, both upper stories are untenantable."

"Accompanying our resolutions, we beg your acceptance of a Silver Trumpet as a token of our high esteem for you, not only for your efficiency and manly deportment in the position you so recently filled but as a slight proof of our high appreciation of your social qualities as a genial companion and an upright honest man."

John Sloane was deeply perturbed lest your George Atwater had fallen in with bad companions and warned and urged him to "cut loose from every association which your conscience condemns, and which may interfere, socially and morally with your future career. I implore you to give these matters your most serious thought."

Young Atwater politely told old Sloane to fly a kite but in these diplomatic words:

"I assure you I have not forgotten what you told me about Tom Watkins, but indeed I think you do him an injustice. Although I must allow he is impulsive, I have always found him so agreeable as a companion, so full of ready humor . . ."

"First, he was dismissed by his employers for offenses, which but for the regard for his family, would have resulted in shutting him out of freedom and society for years to come. Second, he is addicted to gambling in the most disreputable phase."

Ah, now the penitent Atwater sees the light and promises he'll have no truck with the likes of Watkins.

"The memory of my dear father and my affection for my mother and family will be my guiding stars when in difficulty, doubt or temptation and my earnest endeavor will be to be able to remain always your grateful young friend," the contrite Atwater wrote.

Corn? Perhaps, but have you tuned your television into a soap opera lately?

Bossy Had To Go At Dairy Farm

LAFAYETTE, Ala. (AP)—J. C. Sharpe turned a dairy farm into a recreation center, became the pro at his own 12-hole golf course and hasn't regretted the change for a minute.

School and church groups, clubs and family reunions kept the place overflowing this year and the facility is already booked for every weekend next summer.

Two-Stage Journey Of Present To Past

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — Guests for a special dedication ceremony in Tombstone were given a sample of both the old and the new West.

The visitors were flown to Tombstone on a chartered airplane and then transported from the airport in stage coaches.

Aaron Burr's Pistol

Age Of Machines Is Just Too Much

A woman got on the elevator, said "Let's see I want room 1126," and proceeded to push buttons 11, 2 and 6.

Brain Watchers Watching You?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Do you daydream?

The "right" answers to these questions are all emphatically "No," according to Martin Gross, a 37-year-old researcher and social science writer whose book, "The Brain Watchers," attacks the psychological testing industry.

"Brain watching," Gross said, "is now a more than 50-million-dollar a year business that has become one of the main determinants of our careers, our jobs and our very place in society."

In New York to mark publication of the book, Gross said salesmen, public relations men, advertising copy writers and college students are becoming increasingly prone to the personality test in the task of finding the "right" person for the right job.

"The psychological theory which sustains the brain watcher," he said, "is that every job, from salesgirl to board chairman, has an ideal personality description, or type, for which he hopes to find the right mate among men."

This type of thinking is all wrong, Gross contends, because the tester can only "hopelessly jab" at the surface of a personality. "There are no so-called 'average norms' to work by and that's where they make mistakes," he said.

In his chapter "Brain Watching in our Schools" and "Science or Cult?," Gross maintains such quizzes are crude instruments incapable of individual diagnosis, "yet their use for this purpose is widespread in the school system."

Citing the support of several academic psychologists, he argues that the tests are not reliable objective measures of human personality and are basically unsuited for the purpose of "finding" maladjusted students who ostensibly need further counseling or referral to school psychologists.

"The over-commercialization of personality testing in the schools," he said, "is the fault of the naivete of school administrators and guidance people, the extravagant claims of test authors, and the hard sell techniques of testing companies."

The person being tested should defend himself, Gross said, by cheating — by forgetting about himself completely and answering the questions to conform to the image of the person he thinks the company is looking for.

Shucks Worth Something Here

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The phrase "ain't worth shucks" does not hold true these days at Chenoa, a remote community in eastern Kentucky.

Carr's Cabin Crafts of Chenoa and Klarer Co. of Louisville have drawn up a contract for volume production of 12 different types of corn shucks dolls.

The brightly colored eight-inch dolls have brought employment to almost 40 families in the depressed mountain area.

Drive-In Services Staged By Church

NORTH SURREY, B. C. (AP)—The Ellendale Heights Baptist Church has staged its first drive-in service in a supermarket's parking lot at this municipality adjoining Vancouver.

The Rev. Ray Shodin said that people who did not feel like sitting in church were willing to attend drive-in services.

A Peacock By Any Other Name, Etc.

MEMPHIS (AP) — Sample of the impact television has on small fry:

Pretty Good Ticket Alibi

OCEAN CITY, N.J. (AP)—Navy Cmdr. G. W. Penebaker of Mechanicsburg, Pa., wrote to the Municipal Court here saying he would be unable to answer a summons for failure to pay a parking fine.

Penebaker wrote from South Viet Nam.

Furthermore, he said in the letter, he was also in South Viet Nam when the ticket was issued.

The 1962 Christmas stamp, a wreath-and-candle design in red and green, is the first stamp to mark a holiday season.

Two Political Offices Are Held By One Man

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (AP)—Rudolph Anselmi has held the same two political offices for 26 consecutive years.

He was first elected to the Rock Springs school board and state senator from Sweetwater county in 1936.

Special Delivery Of Stolen Gems

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Annah A. Peterson answered a knock at her door and was handed a package by a small boy.

The youth, estimated to be 11 or 12 years old, then rushed to a parked car, which sped away.

The height of a tenpin has been 15 inches since the American Bowling Congress was formed in 1895.

Ready-Built Shelters

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Civil Defense officials here have tabbed a local rock quarry—a network of tunnels capable of holding more than 100,000 persons — as a possible fallout shelter in event of nuclear attack.

Tiny Ball Bearing Developed

FULLERTON (UPI)—A Southern California research and development organization has developed a miniature ball bearing which weighs only 1/1,000,000th of an ounce and is designed for motors almost invisible to the naked eye.

Scientists at SUMICS say this is only the beginning. They say they expect to develop parts for even smaller motors.

Developer James Pelle of Laguna Beach said development of the tiny ball bearing is a major breakthrough in miniaturization and microanalysis which must be employed on all kinds of devices to be used in space and electronics industries.

While the ball bearings have not yet been used, except in SUMICS laboratories, Pelle said there are big applications for the tiny items. He said microscopic wound and assembled motors already have been made in several aerospace laboratories.

"Because they are not affected by the high vacuum conditions of outer space, they are ideal for use as bearings and 'space grease' in satellite equipment," Pelle said.

Pelle, a former research specialist in the physics department of Hughes Aircraft Co., said that under conditions of high vacuum such as occur in outer space ordinary greases evaporate or freeze solid.

Speeders Clocked By Three Methods

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—During a convention of justices of the peace, state police decided to demonstrate what they argue are three nearly infallible methods of gauging automobile speeds.

Radar, electric timers and airplane observations were employed simultaneously to measure car speeds on an airport runway. Officials said the three methods agreed within a mile an hour on cars traveling up to 100 miles an hour.

Injured Woman Has 'Coming Out' Party

ATLANTIC, Iowa (AP)—Mrs. Wayne Camblin of Atlantic, who had been in a neck-to-hips cast for some weeks because of broken back, wanted to make sure her doctor would remember the date he promised the cast would be removed.

So she sent him a formal invitation to a "coming out" party on the promised date. He accepted.

City Gets Name From Man's Death

His friends named the river crossing Frank's Ford — and 12 years later it was selected as the state capital site.

IT'S A PHOTO FINISH

Adventures For Armchair Sailor

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—An armchair sailor who dreams of travel to exotic islands — but never goes to sea—can live the experience vicariously with the aid of a world traveler.

Leonard England, son of a Scottish sailing captain, makes it easy.

He transported the atomosphere to the three-million-dollar Ocean House on the new Mission Bay development here.

England, director of interiors for the Del E. Webb Corp., incorporated a Galeon dining room at Ocean House. A cocktail lounge is distinguished by powerful masts from The Bounty, the ship used in the 1937 film starring Charles Laughton and Clark Gable.

England feels his travels enriched his design imagination. He prefers to work with themes, many of them international or historical in flavor.

"Blind obedience to trends leads to such a look of sameness. I don't know any other designers and I never read a design magazine," said England.

He said imagination was essential to a designer, coupled with the practical.

When England was 17 he signed aboard a freighter and was in Rio de Janeiro at the outbreak of World War II. There the sight of the first German U-Boat casualties from a British freighter prompted him to return to his native Canada and join the Eagle Squadron, the Flying Tigers of Canada.

England was shot down over Hamburg and for six years was a prisoner of war.

"As the months of unbelievable boredom dragged on, I knew I had to start something to occupy my mind and keep physically active," he said.

Traffic Officers Given Pat On Back

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—A traffic officer can make more friends for the police than any other man on the force, says Chief W. E. Hopton of the Tennessee Bureau of Identification.

"Most contact by the general public with policemen comes about through traffic law enforcement," Hopton told law enforcement personnel. "That is where the policeman can really shine as a good public relations man."

Gushed Wrong Thing

BURKESVILLE, Ky. (AP)—One of America's first oil gushers was brought in March 11, 1829, near Burkesville. The oil was a great disappointment for Dr. John Croghan—he was drilling for salt.

Detective Quick To Track Thief

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A detective in swimming trunks may not look like a detective but he still acts like one.

When a thief stole his camera and radio from a beach blanket, detective Ed Whittaker nabbed him by touring nearby bars and offering to buy a radio. The thief blamed his act on "too much cheap wine" but drew 90 days in jail anyway.

Ever Wonder How Candidates Look?

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Virg Hill, political columnist for The Phoenix Gazette, had this suggestion for voters who wanted to know what some of the candidates looked like in their youth:

IT'S "SHOWER OF VALUES" IN I-J CLASSIFIED ADS

Have you looked at the I-J Classified section lately? If you haven't, you have missed more bargains per square inch than you'll find anywhere in Marin. This is the "People's Marketplace" and here you find bargains in almost anything you are looking for. Lots of folks just read it for the fun of seeing the tremendous variety of items advertised. Smart shoppers answer the ads quickly to be the first to get in on the values.

Smart advertisers use classified ads daily because they know that results are almost instantaneous in the Want Ads. The reason for this is that most of the items advertised are "one of a kind" and shoppers know that if they don't get there quickly the item will be sold. So, whether it's action or bargains you want . . . it's smart to read and use I-J Classified Ads.

'SOS' Helps Britons In Need

And with that simple signal the giant British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) almost every day, and sometimes several times a day, sets out to save a life, bring solace or succor to the dying or to help catch a criminal.

It is one of the biggest and one of the most successful "SOS" services operating in the world today and it has been going on for 38 years on the BBC Home Service radio network.

It started without plan one day when an official of the then fledgling BBC agreed to put a message on the air seeking the whereabouts of a relative of a very sick little boy. Records of the incident are hazy but it was the beginning of a unique and regular public service conducted by the state-financed British radio.

Since that time the BBC has broadcast without charge thousands of messages bringing relatives quickly to the bedsides of sick people. In cooperation with the police, it has put out thousands of appeals for witnesses of crimes and serious accidents, warnings against missing dangerous drugs, and SOS's for special equipment or medicine to treat rare diseases.

Anyone may phone up the BBC and ask them to send out a message for someone certified dangerously ill. Police verification must be had, and the patient must be asking to see the relative.

"The SOS had come from a doctor who certified that the patient was dangerously ill. He was not, however, too ill to write to us when he heard of the broadcast to say if his wife dared to come near him, he would kick her out."
